

had been done by his administration to get the country "back on the right track" in its domestic affairs. Although declaring he did not come to make a "partisan report," he said he took pride in pointing out that unemployment had been "banished," financial stability restored, taxes lightened, and great economies effected in government.

Washington's Address. Washington's farewell address was taken by the chief executive as his point of departure when he turned to foreign relations. American adherence to the court, he said, squares with the principles enunciated by Washington, who recognized the value of international arbitration.

"It is with that high purpose in mind that I advocate participation by the United States in the permanent court of international justice," continued Mr. Harding. "Two conditions may be considered indispensable."

"First, that the tribunal be so constituted as to appear and to be, in theory and practice, in form in substance, beyond the shadow of doubt, a world court and not a league court."

"Second, that the United States shall occupy a plane of perfect equality with every other power."

Elaborating upon his pronouncement that the court must not be a league court, the executive asserted that the country had an opportunity to indicate its desire to join the league in 1920 and it "most emphatically refused" and "it would refuse again, no less decisively today."

"There has been no change of condition," he added, with respect to the league issue, "it is the same league. Not a line in the rejected covenant has been altered, not a phrase modified, not a word omitted or widened. Article X still stands as the heart of the compact. Article XI and all other stipulations objected to and condemned by the American people remain untouched, in full force in theory, however circumspectly they are being ignored in practice."

"In the face of the overwhelming verdict of 1920, therefore, the issue of the league of nations is as dead as slavery. It is not the part of wisdom and common sense to let it rest in the deep grave to which it has been consigned, and turn our thoughts to living things?"

Rudiments of Good In League. Mr. Harding said he recognized rudiments of good in the league organization, however, and repeated his declaration of 1920 that he hoped to "take and combine all that is good and excise all that is bad," from the league and The Hague tribunal.

"The abstract principle of a world court found its genesis in The Hague tribunal," he continued, "the concrete application of that principle has been made by the league. Sound theory and admirable practice have been joined successfully. The court itself is not only firmly established but has clearly demonstrated its utility and efficiency."

"It is a true judicial tribunal. Its composition is of the highest order. None better, none freer, from Jewish, partisan, national, or racial prejudices or influences could be obtained. That, to the best of my information and belief, is a fact universally admitted and acclaimed. I care not whence the court came. I insist only that its integrity, its independence, its complete and continuing freedom be safeguarded absolutely."

"The sole question is whether the requirements which I have enumerated as essential to adherence by the United States can be met. My answer is that where there is a unanimous will, a way can always be found."

I am not wedded irrevocably to any particular method. I would not assume for a moment that the readjustment of the existing arrangement which appears to my mind as feasible is the best, much less the only one. But, such as it is, I submit it, without excess of detail, as a basis for consideration, discussion and judgment."

Self-Perpetuating Court. The president then presented his proposal for a self-perpetuating court and added:

"The fixing of compensation of the judges, the supervision of expenditures, the apportionment of contributions, etc., could also be transferred from the league to either the court of arbitration or a commission designated by the member nations. This, incidentally, would be averted the admitted unfairness of the present system, which imposes a tax upon members of the league who are not subscribers to the court."

"The exclusive privilege now held by the league to seek advisory legal guidance from the court might either be abolished, or, more wisely perhaps, be extended to any member or group of member nations. Thus all would be served alike, subject as now to the termination by the court itself of the kind of questions upon which it would render judgments."

"The disparity in voting as between a unit nation and an aggregated empire, which now maintains in the assembly of the league, to which many object, because of apprehensions which I do not share, would under this plan, disappear automatically."

In presenting these suggestions the president declared he neither advanced nor retreated from the position assumed in presenting the court proposal to the senate, but merely indicated "ways and means for realization of our common aspiration," which he defined as a desire to substitute "justice for warfare in the settlement of controversies between nations."

"Further than that I shall not go," he declared. "I shall not attempt to force the senate of the United States."

No Demand Upon People. "I shall make no demand upon the people. I shall not try to impose my will upon any body or anybody. I shall embark upon no crusade. Hereafter from time to time, as tonight, acting from time to time, but to the full limit of my constitutional authority, I shall make further exposition of my matured views and maturing proposals."

"But I shall not restrict my appeal to your reason. I shall call upon your patriotism. I shall beseech your humanity. I shall invoke your Christianity. I shall reach to the very depths of your love for your fellow men of whatever race or creed throughout the world. I shall speak as I speak now, with all the earnestness and power of the sincerity that is in me and in perfect faith that God will keep clear and receptive your understanding."

"I could not do otherwise. My soul yearns for peace. My heart is anguished by the sufferings of war. My spirit is eager to serve. My position is for justice over force. My hope is in the great court. My mind is made up. My resolution is fixed."

The president voiced the "enhanced regard" for this country for Great Britain because of her "sturdy assumption" of her financial obligation to the United States.

He bespoke good will for Mexico with hope of early resumption of "fraternal relations."

He hoped that Germany, Turkey and Mexico would accompany the United States into the world court.

EUROPE WORRIED OVER DEADLOCK. Continued From First Page.

condition in advance to join the French in demanding that Germany cease her passive resistance. This was accompanied by the further condition precedent to an allied discussion of the German note that the allies should assent in advance to certain conditions laid down by France about the division of reparations and about the mechanism to be adopted for their payment.

In the situation thus presented the British determined to disregard utterly any spirit of bitterness that they may have seen in the French attitude, to have the most complete consideration for the feelings of the French and especially to bear in mind a repentant consciousness that the British government itself, in past years under Lord George, had been largely to blame for the events that have led the French government into its present state of mind.

The reply of the British took the form of a questionnaire. Just what the French mean by "cessation of passive resistance?" Do they merely mean that the German government shall withdraw the orders to its people to practice resistance, or do they mean that the German government must do something beyond in the direction of humiliation and satisfaction? Also, in case the German government should withdraw the orders for passive resistance will any diminution follow from the present drastic rigor of French military rule in the Ruhr?

Other Requests Made. These questions, addressed by Britain to Paris, cover the first condition laid down by France. There were other requests for interpretations in the British questionnaire, but they concerned the subsequent stages of the negotiation, assuming that the initial stages are not made impossible and that negotiation goes on at all.

It is apparent that the British feel first that they must take the most extreme pains to keep the present situation alive and avoid a deadlock, but, second, that they cannot hand out assent to the condition insisting that Germany cease passive resistance. To do so would be stultifying. It would present approval of that invasion of the Ruhr which Britain four months ago disapproved as illegal, moreover it would be futile. It would promise nothing for the future.

But it is equally apparent that if the French will give the British the faintest leeway to do so, the British will be willing to use their good offices to counsel Germany to cease the passive resistance. The British are not so much concerned with saving their own face. But it is obvious that Britain cannot ask Germany to take this step without having some assurance that it will be followed by other steps looking toward the resumption of normal relations.

The reply of the British took the form of a questionnaire. Just what the French mean by "cessation of pay, and exactly what else she must do to get herself free from bondage. If the French reply to the British questionnaire is such as to enable Britain to go on another step, Europe will at last be on the way to peace. But if the French reply is an insistence on a condition which Britain regards as impossible, then Britain must finally and definitely determine to take some different course looking to her own future condition what she literally and sincerely regards as the saving of European civilization from destruction. If this latter course entails the alternative of final departure from France, Britain will not shrink it, and her parliament and people will back her up to a man. But Britain's whole mood is a wish to go on with France.

The next few days will make it possible to speak with some definiteness of the other conditions laid down by France, dealing with the division of reparations and the like.

GIRL IS DROWNED IN OOSTENAU LA IN HEART OF ROME

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special).—Stepping off a sandbar within ten feet of where her grandmother sat fishing in the Oostenaula river, within three blocks of the heart of the city, Frances Winkler, a 14-year-old girl, drowned this morning before help could reach her.

Unable to swim, the child was walking on the sandbar, where the water was only a few inches deep. She went too far from the shore, however, and stepped into a hole more than twenty feet deep. Boys bathing across the river rushed to her assistance, but it was more than an hour and a half before divers found the body.

One thousand suits

Dixie Weaves and Tropical Worsteds

Hart Schaffner & Marx and Daniel's

Special

$29

You'll miss a lot if you don't get in on this

Daniel Bros. Company

Nettleton Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes Stetson shoes 45-47-49 Peachtree hats

Good business judgment dictates this policy to make business good—

Keep on telling them
And you'll keep on selling them

It's the keeping on that keeps business coming in

Dont Tell 'em Yesterday
Tell 'em Today

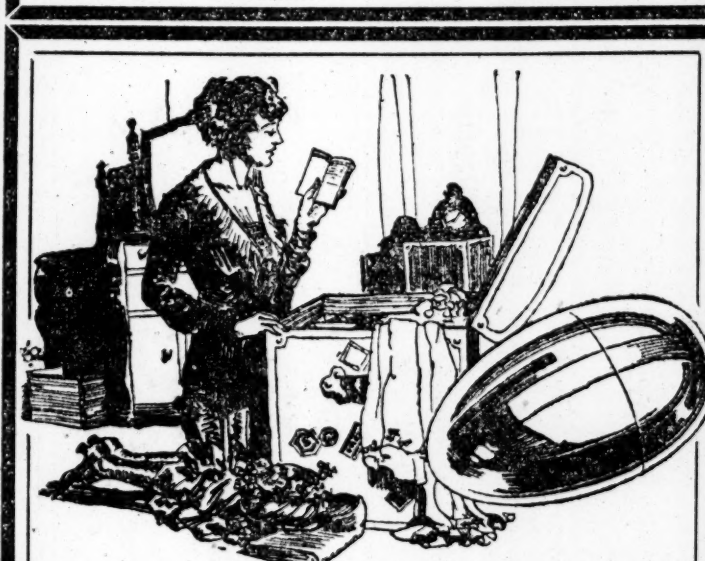

TELL them regularly in

The Atlanta Constitution
Main 5000

FOR HEALTH'S SAKE—EAT
SKINNERS
The Superior
EGG NOODLES

Baked Ham!
An Ideal Summer Meat
—So good for luncheons, picnics, or any time.
—But if you prefer, we have the finest of smoke-cured Hams ready for baking in your own oven—and other meals that can not be surpassed.
—Take a look also at our Fish Country. They are well stocked with a splendid variety of seasonal delicacies. Sea Foods—fresh from the waters.

FULTON MARKET CO.
25-27 E. ALABAMA STREET PHONE MAIN 1500

FORGOTTEN — BUT IT GREW. Compound interest works every day. Often one hears of a passbook laid away and forgotten for years. In the meantime the accumulated interest had almost doubled the principal. Let the Nest Egg* Bank and compound interest work for you.

You are "Next" for a FREE DOLLAR
and a Nest Egg* Bank
—but come quickly, or you'll be too late!

The $2,000 is dwindling fast. Why shouldn't it? All one has to do to get the FREE $1 is to open an account for $1 or more and comply with the easy conditions given in the coupon below. And you get the most popular home bank ever devised, too; strong, compact, with a borrow-proof slot, and handsomely nickel-plated or gold-plated. Bring the coupon now—or you may be too late!

Special design for Boy and Girl Scouts, with "Rockwell" Head

Empire Trust Co.

35-37-39 North Broad St.
Atlanta

4%
On Savings Compounded Quarterly

This coupon good for $1 and Nest Egg* Bank at

EMPIRE TRUST CO.

Make an initial deposit of $1 or more and receive a Nest Egg* Home Bank. Deposit $1 or more a month for one year and you will be credited with $1 additional absolutely FREE.

Name _____ Address _____

Copyright, 1921, E. P. C.

ATLANTA'S OLDEST SAVINGS BANK

The Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company

Pays $1 Starts The Account

Georgia Savings Bank Bldg.
(Formerly Flatiron Building)
74 Peachtree Street

KAMPER'S ATLANTA KAMPER'S ATLANTA

Kamper's
Week-End Offerings

Fresh Tub Butter
Pound, 47c

Large White Eggs
(Safe Eggs)
Dozen 43c
2 Dozen 95c

Honey Cream Cakes
Large 2-Layer Cakes, With Caramel Icing
Each 40c

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

HOME-GROWN ICEBERG LETTUCE—Heads 15c
SEATTLE ICEBERG LETTUCE—Extra large heads 35c
SMALL YELLOW SQUASH—3 lbs. for 10c
FANCY LARGE WHITE CELERY—Stalks 30c
HOME-GROWN BUTTER BEANS—Quart 10c
HOME-GROWN SNAP BEANS—Quart 5c
FANCY GEORGIA-GROWN TOMATOES—Pound 25c
CARROTS—Bunch 5c
SPINACH—Peck 30c

Florida Alligator Peas—Each 25c
Fresh Apricots—Dozen 30c
Persian Limes—Dozen 35c
Large Grapefruit—Each 10c
Gooseberries—Quart 25c

Iced Watermelons
50c 60c 75c

Old English Cheese—Pound 50c
Good Swiss Cheese—Pound 60c
Ripe Olives—In Jars 15c

PHENIX
Means GOOD Cheese
Two for 25c

KAMPER'S BEST PASTRY FLOUR
12-lb. Bags 75c
24-lb. Bags $1.45
48-lb. Bags $2.85
Barrels $9.95

Special Sale on CHAMBLANC and CHAMPROUSE
An Especially Fine Drink
Bottles, 50c and $1.00

KAMPER'S BRAN MUFFINS
Dozen 20c

K. C. WHOLE WHEAT FLOUR
10-lb. Bags 75c

KAMPER'S CINNAMON ROLLS
Dozen 20c

Queen Fruit Jars
ARE HERE NOW.
White, clear glass with patented tops.
Pints, each, 18c; Dozen $1.90
Quarts, each, 20c; Dozen $2.00

Pride of Atlanta
12-Pound Sacks $.80
24-Pound Sacks $1.55
48-Pound Sacks $3.05

You Can Drink Good Coffee All Summer
DRINK IT ICED—A good coffee served iced is delicious and refreshing, but it takes GOOD coffee to serve you and be appreciated thoroughly. OUR SPECIAL BLEND IS GOOD COFFEE—so good that it will set you day-dreaming of the romance of the happy, carefree life in the tropics.
Pound, 40c; 3 pounds for $1.15

Kamper's
TELEPHONE SERVICE DELIVERY SERVICE
492-498 Peachtree St. Telephone Hamlock 5000

RECORD CLASS IS INITIATED BY ELKS

Atlanta Lodge No. 78, B. P. O. Elks, performed a noteworthy feat by the initiation last night at the auditorium of 1,200 candidates when it moved up from fifty-third to ninth place in the total membership roll in Elksdom. It was the largest class that has ever been taken into membership of the local organization.

A parade including the candidates, members of the Atlanta lodge and several hundred visiting Elks from Georgia and the south marched from the lodge to the auditorium headed by the Elks band of 78 pieces under the direction of Mike Greenblatt.

At the auditorium a degree team composed wholly of local men conducted the ceremonies. Jos. Stewart, former stage manager of the Grand theater and member of the degree team, was in charge of the scenic effects.

Occupying the regular stations of the lodge during the ceremonial were officers of Atlanta lodge No. 78, who are as follows: Exalted ruler, L. E. McCalland; esteemed leading knight, Wayne Allen; esteemed loyal knight, Frank Baumgartner; esteemed lecturing knight, P. L. Provano; secretary, B. C. Boyles; treasurer, R. B. Cunningham; chaplain, Rev. Russell K. Smith; tiler, W. B. Cummings; esquire, Joseph R. Cooke; inner guard, J. S. Gardner; organist, E. Volpi.

BUILDING PERMITS REACH $2,250,000

June building permits were increased to a total of $2,250,000 Thursday when a single permit for $400,000 was issued to the Massell company for erection of a 15-story structure to be known as the Robert Fulton hotel at Luckie and Cane street.

Plans for erection of the hotel were announced several weeks ago by the Massell company, which is acting as agents for an out-of-town concern. The building is to be re-inforced concrete up to the second story and of brick and steel throughout the rest, maintaining fourteen stories. E. C. Seiz, architect for the building, stated it would be ready for occupancy early in 1924.

Another large permit was issued Thursday to the Atlantic Ice & Coal corporation for repairs on its building on Piedmont avenue, the cost of this work to approximate $55,000.

Total permits for the first six months of 1923 have already exceeded $17,500,000 with indications that the grand total for the year will aggregate $35,000,000, according to C. J. Bowen, city building inspector.

SANITARIUM FINANCES IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Milledgeville, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—If necessary additional appropriations for maintenance of the Georgia state sanitarium are not provided by the legislature at its coming session, it will be absolutely necessary to limit admissions to the hospital to the number that the appropriation made will cover, officials declared Thursday.

This will mean that possibly in the present year, and certainly during the next year, a number of insane persons will have to be confined with criminals in the county jails because there will be no room for them in the sanitarium.

The normal capacity of the sanitarium today is only 3,800. At the present time the institution has 4,140 patients, with 528 on furlough, making a total of 4,668 patients the hospital is responsible for. Figures over a period of years show that the average increase in admissions each year is about 70.

This statement was made public today by John T. Brantley, president of the board of trustees of the sanitarium. Mr. Brantley announced that in order to maintain the sanitarium during 1923, the regular appropriation of $800,000 will have to be supplemented by an additional appropriation of approximately $230,000, of which $53,419.96 will be used to make up the cash deficit incurred by operations in 1922.

In addition to the increased amount necessary for actual maintenance, $81,245 is required to finish the new building necessary to relieve overcrowded conditions in the white female department, and approximately $90,000 is necessary to rebuild the ice plant, provide adequate fire protection, and install a duplicate pipe line to prevent the possibility of a water famine, it was added.

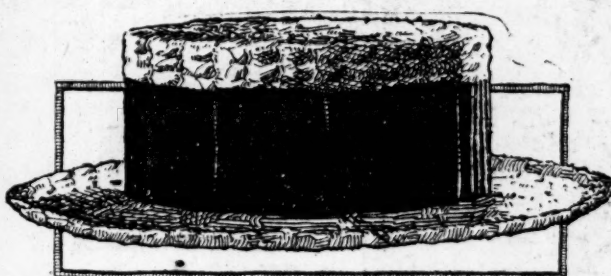

Oglethorpe's Summer School

Summer school at Oglethorpe university has opened with a satisfactory attendance. Special lectures in English are being given by Dr. James Hopkins university. Ira V. Maxwell, C. P. A., is offering special courses in accounting and bookkeeping; Dr. G. F. Nichols is giving lectures on Latin and Greek; while work in mathematics and languages is also being undertaken. The summer course covers a period of ten weeks, closing in the latter part of August.

Vacation Land is Calling

Three necessary requisites
That will give you lots of pleasure and comfort

Straw hats

$3 up

Bathing suits

$2 to $8

Daniel's oxfords

$6 up

Get a new one for your trip. Fine sailors and sennits in all the popular braids and blocks.

Bangkoks, Leghorns, Panamas, $7 1/2 to $10
Special outing hats $1.00

All colors, fancy silk skirt and body stripes, two-piece and one-piece suits, fine color combinations.

New black or tan lightweight calf; cool canvas oxfords trimmed in tan or black calf, all big values.

Wonderful selection sport shoes . . $10
Nettleton (shoes of worth) $12

79c
6 suits for $4.50

Special sale summer underwear
Two big lots — At 79c fine pajama checked union suits worth much more. At $1.19 woven madras, satin striped and plaids—the kind you pay $2 and $2 1/2 for elsewhere—see our windows—come in and save.

$1.19
6 suits for $7

Daniel Bros. Company

Nettleton shoes

Home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes
45-47-49 Peachtree

Stetson hats

HUDSON Reduces Prices

Effective at Once

Get these sensational prices before purchase of any car

HUDSON and ESSEX

Sold by

J. W. Goldsmith, Jr.-Grant Co.

Distributors
Retail and Wholesale

229 Peachtree St.

IVy 1115

Porter-Minehan Co.

Dealers
520 Peachtree St. HE. 5745

Beall-Watkins Co.

Dealers
257 Peachtree St. IVy 7154

Pacific Northwest

Seattle - Center of the Charmed Land

Mountains that raise their snow-capped heads to heaven and echo the music of innumerable waterfalls. Sparkling inland seas and azure lakes. Forests of mighty trees.

Steamer trips on Puget Sound to the San Juan Islands, the Olympic Mountains, Vancouver and the quaint old English city, Victoria, and by the "Inside Passage" to Alaska.

See the Pacific Northwest this summer—Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, the beauties of the Columbia River, Puget Sound, Mt. Rainier and Crater Lake National Parks—and if you have time, return via California, it costs only $18.00 more.

Include Yellowstone by side trip. See scenic Colorado, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way.

Very Low Summer Fares

Write for Free Booklet Let us tell you how reasonably you can make the trip and send you beautifully illustrated booklet "Pacific Northwest and Alaska."

Go on the splendid North Western-Union Pacific trains. 1300 miles of beautiful scenery along the old Oregon trail.

For information, ask any Railroad Ticket Office, or

W. C. Elgin, J. L. Burger, Gen'l Agent, U. P. System, 1232 Healey Bldg., 49 N. Forsyth St., Atlanta

Gen'l Agent, C. & N. W. Ry., 45 Ingalls Bldg., 4 E. Fourth St., Cincinnati

Chicago & NorthWestern Union Pacific System

SPECIAL HEARING GIVEN TO JITNEY DRIVERS ON BOND

A special hearing for jitney drivers on the action of council last Monday in voting to increase indemnity bonds from $1,000 to $5,000 on all jitneys, will be held at the mayor's office at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mayor Sims declared he would listen to arguments from jitney drivers before taking action on the ordinance as passed by council.

Negro Claims Mother Is Held in Servitude On Williams' Farm

Agents of the department of justice may conduct an investigation into the story told by police Thursday by John McMillan, negro, of conditions under which he claims to have been held to work on the Williams' farm in Jasper county.

The negro gave Chief George Mathieson, of the county police, the names of other negroes whom he stated were held in a condition of involuntary servitude.

McMillan was jailed by police in connection with an alleged attempt to dispose of a cow to a live stock dealer. It is said by the police that the negro tried to sell the cow for the small sum of $10, which aroused the suspicions of the dealer.

Investigation of McMillan's story was begun Thursday by Chief Mathieson. The chief stated that he doubted the negro's story. Further investigation will be made today.

Ernest L. Rhodes, Accident Victim, Sues for $100,000

Suit for $100,000 was filed Thursday in the city court by Ernest L. Rhodes, president of the Rhodes Millinery company, against Logan T. Williamson, as the result of an accident November, 1922, at a filling station at 1735 Peachtree road. Mr. Rhodes charges in his petition that the accident, in which he alleges Mr. Williamson was to blame, caused a recurrence of pulmonary tuberculosis, of which he asserts he had been cured before the crash.

The complainant claims that his car was parked at the filling station and that, while he was filling the radiator with water, Williamson drove his car into the station at an excessive rate of speed, striking Rhodes' car. He says the crash knocked his own car twenty feet and that he was dragged with it that distance.

FIRE HAZARD REPORT APPROVED BY MAYOR

Mayor Walter A. Sims, Thursday, after his official approval of the report of the special committee which recently investigated fire perils at Girls' High school and submitted recommendations for their alleviation to council last Monday.

"I am glad to approve this report," declared the mayor, "and it is my hope that every recommendation it contains will be carried out without delay. Our school children must be protected from fire dangers, regardless of costs."

CLASS OPENS JUNE 23 FOR BIBLE WORKERS

The special training school for workers in daily vacation Bible schools will open its initial course June 23 at 8 o'clock in Second Baptist church and will continue until June 28. On opening night the Decatur Community Vacation Bible school will have charge of the program and will demonstrate "A Vacation Bible School in Action."

This school will provide courses in worship and Bible study, led by Mrs. S. H. Agnew; music and handicraft, led by Mrs. W. L. Blankenship; story telling, led by Miss Myra Battisteri; craft work, led by Miss Anna Berry Hinton; dramatization of Bible stories, led by Miss Reba Jernigan; recreation, led by Wilkes Denny; and organization and management, led by Mrs. S. H. Askey and R. D. Webb.

The Rev. Marshall Woodson, teacher of singing in the vacation Bible school, will conduct music for the devotional exercises.

LODGE CELEBRATES TWELFTH ANNIVERSARY

The twelfth anniversary of the Cohn Rosier lodge No. 608, F. & A. M., was celebrated Thursday night in the lodge rooms. The program was arranged by charter members and officers of 1911 with the fellowcraft club co-operating. The address of Past Grand Master Charles L. Bass was the feature of the entertainment.

Bishop Scott at Y. M. C. A.

Bishop I. B. Scott will be the speaker at the colored branch of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4:30. His subject will be "The Advantage of Disadvantage." The bishop has had a wide experience in travel and observation, as he spent several years in Africa for the Methodist Episcopal church and was one of the leading church editors of one of the leading church papers of the denomination. Music will be furnished by the Bob White orchestra.

STAGE COLLEGE NIGHT AT CAMP MCLELLAN

Anniston, Ala., June 21.—(Special.)—College stunt night was staged Wednesday evening by the recreation department of the Reserve Officers' training corps at Camp McClellan in the nature of a get-together and get-acquainted social. College yells, songs and cheers given by the representatives of different colleges for rival institutions, as Alabama cheering for Auburn, was an enthusiastic feature of the evening program and was the first in history, according to participants in the affair, that a similar demonstration has ever been given in a great many cases. Among the ancient rivals taking part in the affair were the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech; Alabama and Auburn; North Carolina and North Carolina State; Mississippi A. and M. and "Ole Miss"; Clemson and South Carolina; and numerous other southern colleges and universities. Representatives from the glee clubs of each college participating in the program contributed numbers and several unique and original stunts were staged. One of the biggest musical hits of the evening was a medley composed by the bandmaster of the 22nd infantry made up of the college songs of all of the institutions represented in the camp. Wednesday night's event was said to have been one of the first of its kind ever held at any training center of the country and was pronounced one of the most enthusiastic and successful social occasions in the history of the fourth corps area activities.

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE.
Anniston, Ala., June 21.—(Special.)—Plans for the new Masonic temple to be built here were adopted as submitted by the architects at a meeting of the directors of temple association and bids for the foundation of the structure will be asked for in a few days. Specifications for the building will be submitted by the architects within the next 20 or 30 days, and bids for the entire building or part of the work will be asked for in a few days.

TWO MEN ASSAULTED BY FOUR WHITE THUGS

Clifford Martin, 398 Pulliam street, and Grover Chaffin, 375 Pulliam street, were assaulted and badly beaten Thursday while standing by the curb at Pulliam and Dodd streets by four unidentified white men. A car drove up to the curb and the four thugs sprang out on Martin and Chaffin. Identification of the assailants or their motives have not been learned by the police who believe that the attack was a case of mistaken identity.

$75,170.58 CHECK SENT TO ST. PAUL BY HENRY FORD

St. Paul, Minn., June 21.—Henry Ford Thursday sent the Greater St. Paul Committee a check for $75,170.58 and authorized Colonel L. H. Brittin to negotiate for purchase of more land for his big new northwest plant. The check, signed by Edsel Ford, president of the Ford company, was to reimburse St. Paul men for expense incurred in obtaining his facilities. The check was for $75,170.58 and was for the purchase of 171 acres adjacent to the government high dam on which power rights have been granted him. Colonel Brittin was authorized to obtain a ten-acre island in the Mississippi, government and city property, for a hydro-electric and steam power plant and 1,000 feet for a river dock. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad was authorized to lay track to the factory site. Work on the factory itself will start at once.

Circulation Managers Select Louisville, Ky., As 1924 Meeting Place

Muskoka Lake, Ont., June 21.—The 25th annual convention of the International Circulation Managers association adjourned here Thursday after selecting Louisville, Ky., as the 1924 meeting place. The following officers were elected: M. W. Florer, Dallas Journal, president; R. S. Weir, Syracuse Journal, first vice president; Roy Hatton, Detroit Free Press, second vice president; Clarence Eyster, Peoria Star, re-elected secretary-treasurer, and George M. McTaggart, Toronto Mail and Empire, Harold Hough, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, H. E. Frie, El Paso, Texas Herald, and Royal Weiler, Allentown, Pa., Call, directors.

Freedom From Husband Preferred to $100,000; Wife Secures Divorce

Chicago, June 21.—Mrs. Hazel Ford Wilson preferred freedom from her husband, Joseph, to $100,000. Charles E. Ford, her father and a banker, left her $100,000 on condition that she continue to live with her husband. It was learned Thursday that Mrs. Wilson disliked her husband more than she wanted the money and had secured a divorce in Nevada. Attorneys are now asking the courts to dispose of the conditional inheritance.

SMALL DAMAGE DONE BY THREE SMALL FIRES

Occupants of Candler building were given a scare when grease caught fire in Silverman's restaurant on the first floor causing a small blaze about 6:30 o'clock Thursday night. Little damage was reported. Flames, caused by a short circuit of electric wires, threatened serious damage to the Astoria cafe, 61 West Mitchell street, but quick work by firemen prevented the fire from spreading. Bales of cotton being transferred from one store to another caught fire at the Atlanta Woolen Mills, 100 Wells street, and considerable damage was done, several bales being destroyed.

POLICE DISCOVER TWO WHISKY STORES

J. A. Prader, 48, 24 Houston street, was arrested last night by Patrolmen S. C. Johnston and A. L. Green when four gallons of whisky were found in his apartment. He was released on $500 bond. Detectives E. C. Stigall and G. E. Williams seized several five and 10-gallon kegs and 12-gallon cans of whisky at 7 Forrest avenue. W. A. Jernigan, 33, and J. D. Nunn, 24, were arrested and held in default of $1,000 bond.

SHOWERS BRING RELIEF FROM HEAT WAVE

Continued From First Page.
Oppressive sultry clouds hung overhead the most of the day and night causing thousands to seek relief in the parks and beaches along Lake Superior. Merciless Heat Wave.
Washington and Boston are experiencing a weather situation in which a merciless heat wave is overpowering the strength and vitality of the people without the slightest relaxation through nocturnal breezes. Press dispatches are to the effect that many places in the northern states had to suspend business in the course of Thursday because people would not venture out in the blazing sun. Steel mills in Pittsburgh, where the temperature kept rising through the day until it reached 98 degrees, were forced to close when the crest of the heat wave was reached. Washington increased its record of last week when 150 Shriners were overcome with heat while marching in the national convention's parade. Then the temperature was 96. Thursday it topped the earlier record with another two degrees. The exclusive Chevy Chase section was practically without water and dire sufferings are predicted if there is no let up in the attentions of Old Sol within the next 24 hours. Sweltering Boston.
Boston sweltered under 96 degrees. New York and New Haven were two degrees cooler by official thermometers but actually much hotter as was evidenced by the melting pavements. Even Atlantic City had to admit 90 degrees, meanwhile Flagstaff, Ariz., offers a contrast which would not come as a surprise from a sub-Arctic city. There citizens hugged the stoves as the mercury dropped four degrees below freezing point. In New York, Washington and Boston horses and other animals suffered. Police officers and authorities of the humane societies put in a record day of bringing relief to thousands of mute sufferers. Heat restrictions continued all over the north. Already 44 deaths have resulted from heat prostrations in the north and fears are entertained for the next 24 hours, for which the official weather bureau forecasts an unchanged situation. The highest temperature in Atlanta came just before the showers. The whole morning had been cool, and the actual heat lasted less than three hours.

GREEK CHURCH CONSECRATION ENDS IN FIGHT

Chicago, June 21.—With high church dignitaries of both Europe and America present, the elaborate consecration of a bishop in the St. Constantine Hellenic Orthodox Greek church here Thursday turned into a free-for-all fight. Police arrested eight leaders of the factionists who led the uprising.

Toward the close of the ceremony in which the Right Reverend Philaretos Joannides, former president of a Greek theological seminary in New York, was receiving the consecration as bishop this question, in accordance with custom, was asked of several hundred members of the flock gathered about the edifice: "Is our new bishop worthy of the honor that has been bestowed upon him?" "No! No! He is unworthy." The "wing" backing Bishop Joannides accepted the challenge, and bounded to their feet. When police arrived in answer to a riot call, chairs and fists were flying freely. The ceremony continued after the eight men had been taken to jail. Bishop Joannides' domain will extend over nine middle-western states.

Gompers Declares Mine Labor Leaders Again in Accord

Chicago, June 21.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, took pleasure Thursday in announcing that a recent conference had "readjusted the relations" between Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois miners, and President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America. Gompers minimized the former had feeling between the two men and declared that the new accord between "these two fine, big, able and intelligent leaders places them marching shoulder to shoulder against the enemies of the miners of America." These "enemies," Gompers said, had exaggerated and capitalized the disagreement. Farrington, at Springfield, Ill., was quoted as confirming Gompers' statements, but refused to make further comment. Some coal authorities, however, expressed the belief that the truce was an impersonal one.

W. L. DOUGLAS

SHOES ARE MADE BY SKILLED SHOEMAKERS

We have in our 116 stores a wonderful assortment of kinds and styles of high-class, stylish shoes suitable for Men, Women and Boys in all walks of life. They are made of high grade, selected leathers. Fine Calf and Vici Kid shoes are our specialty. The quality, style and workmanship are unsurpassed.

If you have been paying high prices for shoes, why not try a pair of W. L. Douglas $8.00 shoes? They are exceptionally good value. Frankly, is it not worth while for you to dress your feet in shoes that hold their shape, are easy-fitting, look well, wear well and are reasonable in price?

SHOES from $5.00 to $8.00
$4.00 & $4.50 SHOES FOR BOYS

For thirty-seven years W. L. Douglas name and portrait have stood for a high standard of quality and dependable value. For economy and satisfactory service wear shoes that bear this trade mark. Ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes. Look for W. L. Douglas name and the retail price stamped on the sole. Refuse substitutes.

IF NOT FOR SALE IN YOUR VICINITY, WRITE FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOG SHOWING HOW TO ORDER SHOES BY MAIL. POSTAGE FREE.

TO MERCHANTS: If no dealer in your town handles W. L. Douglas shoes write today for exclusive rights to handle this quick-selling, quick turn-over line.

W. L. Douglas Store, 11 PEACHTREE ST., Atlanta
OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

PRICE REDUCTION VACUUM CUP TIRES

KEEP THESE PRICES IN MIND:

SIZES	VACUUM CUP OVERSIZE CORDS	RED SQUARE VACUUM CUP CORDS	VACUUM CUP FABRICS
30 x 3 1/2	$16.85	$15.40	$13.75
32 x 4	31.95	23.95	22.50
32 x 4 1/2	40.80	32.95	30.95
33 x 5	49.95

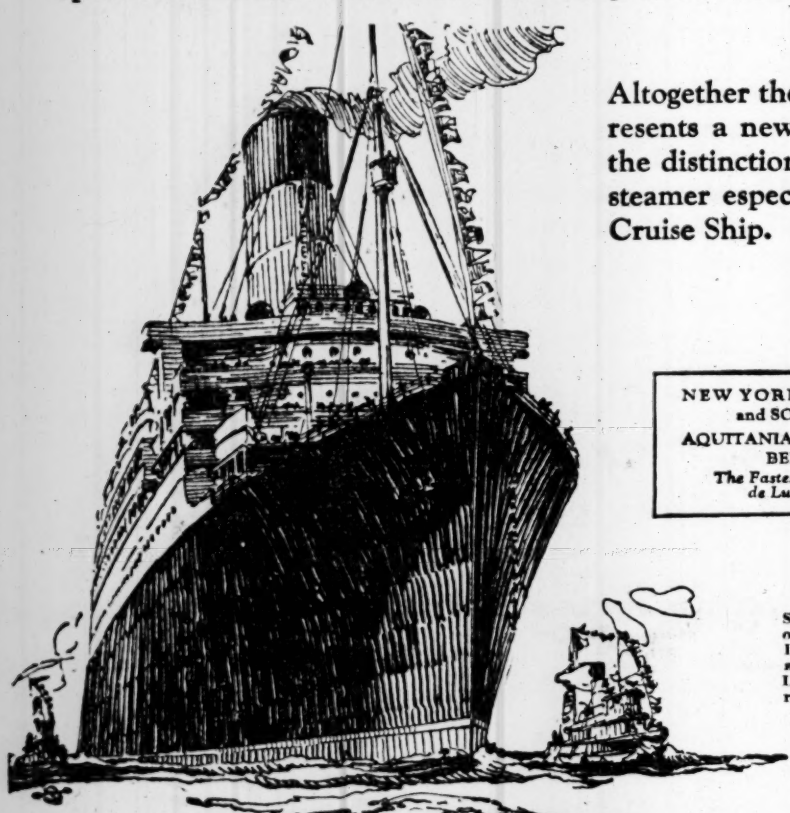

Reduction applies to ALL sizes

America Should Have Tax-Free Rubber

Tires and economy in motor transportation are so intimately related that safeguarding the future of our rubber supply becomes a subject of vital national importance. Forward-looking American tire manufacturers—the world's largest consumers of rubber—are already preparing to meet the situation, and in due time an ample supply of raw rubber will undoubtedly be available in districts free from burdensome taxes and restrictions. Supplementing the commendable efforts now being put forth to provide the United States with tax-free rubber, the Pennsylvania Rubber Company of America, Inc., has already engaged a staff of experts for research in countries throughout the world where conditions may favor the growth of this indispensable commodity.

PENNSYLVANIA RUBBER COMPANY OF AMERICA, INC., Jeannette, Pennsylvania
Twenty-four Hours a Day Year-Round Production

CUNARD AND ANCHOR LINES

Altogether the FRANCONIA represents a new type; hers, too, is the distinction of being the first steamer especially designed as a Cruise Ship.

NEW YORK to CHERBOURG and SOUTHAMPTON
AQUITANIA - MAURETANIA
BERENGARIA
The Fastest Passenger Service
de Luxe in the World

See your Local Agent of Cunard and Anchor
Lines or write Cunard
Lines, Anchor Steamship Lines, Southeastern Territory office—Atlanta.

Carlton's

For Quality and Value

Palm Beaches for Men and Young Men

When you buy one of these suits, you are receiving, besides fabrics and tailoring, a degree of character you do not usually expect in Palm Beach. Browns, tans—all the popular colors.

$12.50 to $16.50

New Tropical Worsted Suits—$30

Distinctive suits with style lines that last, in a variety of popular patterns.

Hot Weather Furnishings

Straw Hats—$2.50 to $6.00—Variety of shapes, straws and colors.
White Collar-attached Shirts—also in colors. English Broadcloths, Windsor Crepes, etc. $2.00 to $3.50.
Pongee Silk Shirts, $5.00—Neck-band style, collars to match.

Silk Shirts, $6.50 to $8.50—Jerseys, Broadcloths and Crepe de Chines. Vassar Underwear, $1 up.—Strictly tailored U Suits, $1 to $5.00.
Athletic Two-piece Underwear—Neatly tailored checked muslin, 85c.
Special! Athletic U-Suits—Checked Muslin, each 4 for $3.65. 95c

Carlton's
36 Whitehall St.

Bathing Suits, California one-piece, also Suits with belt—$2.00 to $5.50.

MAY GAS REPORT SHOWS EARNING

According to its report, filed Thursday with the Georgia Public Service Commission, the Georgia Railway & Power company made net earnings of $48,501.83 during the month of May, 1923 in its gas department.

Revenue for the month was $180,743.25, while expenses were $132,181.42.
Figures of the report are as follows:
Revenue from gas sales.....	$173,067.91
Revenue from other sources.....	7,675.34
Total.....	$180,743.25
Expenses:
Production.....	$66,414.52
Transmission and distribution.....	14,436.30
Commercial.....	9,808.36
New Business.....	4,263.77
General and miscellaneous.....	13,960.59
Depreciation.....	10,642.88
Taxes.....	12,955.00
Total.....	$132,181.42
Net earnings.....	$48,561.83

The Trademark of Good Mustard

The Yellow Can with the Bull's Head

COLMAN'S MUSTARD

Faithfulness

Is the predominant trait of a dog; also the predominant quality of our trunks, bags, suit cases, toilet and shaving sets in leather cases, etc. They serve you faithfully and well and last for years. The durability is built into them. All up-to-date travelers' conveniences are in them, too.

ROUNTREE'S

186 Peachtree St.

—2 Stores—
W. Z. TURNER, Mgr.
WE DO REPAIRING

77 Whitehall

Shannon

As worn by Mr. Clifton Webb the best dressed man on the American stage, now appearing in the successful musical show-
Jack and Jill

One of Five Styles of

LION-DURA
Semi Soft
COLLARS

LION COLLARS & SHIRTS INC. Makers of LION COLLARS, Troy, N.Y.

MAY ASK HIGHER BOND IN GAS CASE

Following publication in Thursday's Constitution of the report from the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Atlanta Gas Light company had filed motion for permission to appeal for a rehearing in the Atlanta gas rate case, before the U. S. supreme court, it developed Thursday that a move probably will be made to ask the federal court for north Georgia to increase the amount of bond of the company.

When the temporary injunction was first granted, in January, 1922, the company was required to post bond of $100,000 to guarantee refund of the extra charge made for gas, should the final decision support the order of the Georgia public service commission, reducing gas rates ten cents per thousand cubic feet. The total amount due the gas consumers as a refund in this case is now close to $200,000, and if the action of Wednesday, asking for a reopening of the case, results in delaying the final decision until next winter's term of court, as expected, this amount will undoubtedly be close to $300,000.

Increase Discussed.
The public service commission, under these circumstances, on Thursday informally discussed the advisability of asking the court to increase the amount of bond. No official action was taken, however, and decision in the matter was postponed until the next official meeting of the commission.

In the meantime, it was suggested by members of the commission, that the court itself might act in this matter, without waiting for a request. Commenting upon the filing of the motion in Washington on Wednesday, as reported in The Constitution, Jack J. Spaulding, of counsel for the company, on Thursday gave out the following statement:

"The news story in the morning paper, while accurate as far as it goes, does not tell the whole tale with regard to the gas case."

The final determination of this case is these:
When the commission ordered the reduction of rates in January, 1922, who the suit was brought in order to speed the matter, Mr. Roscoe H. Roper, Jr., of the Georgia Railway and Power company, agreed that the evidence taken before the commission should be used before the special tribunal who tried the case, in order to save time, and this was done.

When the case was appealed to the supreme court, in the fall of 1922, all of the judges joined Judge Heuser in a request to the court to advance the case in order that it might be promptly disposed of. Otherwise, it would not have been reached on the docket for two years, and there was no means of compelling a hearing except to get the court to advance it. We co-operated, and it was advanced and argued and submitted to the court in November, 1922.

The court did not decide the case until June 11, 1923, and then adjourned in a few hours after the decision was rendered, to meet again in the fall.

Two Vacancies.
There were two vacancies on the bench when this case was argued in November, and it was heard with only seven judges and these judges were not unanimous in deciding the case. The fact that these seven judges considered the case from November, 1922, until the day they adjourned, June 11, 1923, and then not being unanimous, indicated that it was a case that had two good sides to it.

Since this case was argued in November, 1922, two new judges have been appointed, and they now have a full bench. This full bench has decided two cases since our case was argued hearing directly on these questions, in both of which the court decided in favor of our contentions.

We have had no chance to present our views in these cases decided since we argued our case in November as hearing upon this case, and it looks as if it would not be fair to let us be heard before a full court, especially in view of these two recent decisions.

The public is as much interested in this question being decided correctly as the company can possibly be. In my opinion, the valuation fixed by the commission and upheld by the court as not confederate, is at least a million and a half or two million dollars less than the property is really worth today. All the court agreed that we are entitled to earn on the real present value of the property, and if this is not correctly ruled, it will be utterly impossible to raise money with which to extend and develop this system, or any other system that is under-valued.

The vital question in this case, as we see it, is the correct valuation and correct methods of arriving at this valuation. When ever these are once determined, then the whole question is settled.

People will not put their money into an enterprise with the knowledge in advance that it is not going to get fair treatment and be allowed to earn a fair return.

Bandits Again Stage Hold-up To Steal Whisky

For the second time within 90 days bandits have held up the night-clubmen of Atlanta, according to information given police Thursday by L. P. Dube, proprietor of a garage at 115 West Peachtree street.

Several days ago a car was stored by a man giving the name of B. E. Stigall, a month's storage charge being paid in advance. Thursday morning five armed men appeared at the garage, held up the negro watchman and opened the rear of the machine, taking about 10 gallons of whisky. The other garage held up was at Houston and Courtland street. No clues to the robberies had been obtained by the detectives assigned to the case at a late hour Thursday night.

VALUE OF SAVINGS

It may be a Christmas fund, a home building fund, a vacation fund, an educational fund, or it may be a provision for old age, no matter what it is—save a fixed amount each month, just like rent, insurance or household expenses, and you are sure to reach your goal. Did you ever stop to think that a dollar saved is just two dollars more than a dollar spent? The easiest way to get money is to save it. To save does not require superior courage or intellect, it merely requires common sense. Thrift is common sense in every day working action.

Do you know that when you get the idea of saving for something definite, your savings account grows with your ideas? Did you know that $1.00 deposited weekly for ten years at 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly, amounts to $638.04, or that $10 weekly amounts in same time to $6,380.47.

You work hard for your dollars, why not make them work for you. Every pay day set aside a few dollars. Work and saving are inseparable. When you work you get wages, when you save you get interest. When you and your dollar both work you get happiness and prosperity.

Live up for yourself a "nest egg" —start today.

MRS. VANCE IMPROVES FROM ACCIDENT HURTS

Mrs. F. A. Vance, of Jacksonville, who suffered a sprained back in an accident at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the automobile she was driving was struck by a car driven by C. L. Cox, a negro, at the entrance to Druid Hills Golf club on Ponce de Leon avenue, was Thursday reported recovering from her injuries.

The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon while L. H. Franklin, automobile salesman of 437 Peachtree street, was demonstrating a car for Mrs. Vance. The negro was charged with reckless driving. No case was made against the occupants of the other car.

HUBIG'S FAMOUS
HONEY-FRUIT PIES

MADE WITH LOVING CARE
10¢ 20¢ 30¢
AT YOUR GROCERS

DRINK OR DRUG

POISONING requires ELIMINATION. The Keel Treatment acts as an ANTIDOTE for these poisons, creates a longing for drink or drugs and overcomes the diseased condition. (No Hyoscine used.) Dr. J. H. Conway, 10 years with the Keel, in charge Keel Institute, 229 Woodward Ave., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL TOUR TO LUMPKIN COUNTY

Members of the Brotherhood of the Central Presbyterian Sunday school will leave during the first part of July for an extended automobile trip to Porter Springs and Lumpkin county.

The following have so far signified their intention of taking part in the outing: D. C. Jones, J. L. Craig, R. E. Telford, W. A. Crosland, R. A. Woodbury, G. R. Foster, T. C. Clower, J. W. Brown, J. H. Taylor, W. H. Thompson, B. H. Smith, M. G. Clapp, W. E. Norris, Ernest C. Bell, H. H. Hazen, W. F. Greene, W. J. O'Callaghan, George S. Russey, M. S. Craig, E. Walton, F. M. Stevens, O. W. Head, F. L. Stanton, Jr., H. S. Jones, W. F. Buchanan, Dr. B. R. Sacer, Jr., J. E. Kirk, Miller Kirk, A. D. McGaughey, John S. McLeary, of Riverdale, Ga.

NO FAVOR FOUND IN ANTI-DRY LAWS

Resolutions were passed recently by both the Methodist and Baptist churches at Cairo, Ga., condemning any effort to repeal the bone dry laws, according to Mrs. Frank T. Brown, who has enclosed the resolutions adopted in a letter to Mrs. Lella A. Dillard, president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Emory University.

In her letter Mrs. Brown further states that the Presbyterians of Cairo have held no service since announcement in the newspapers of Dr. Craig Arnold, of Dahonega, that he would introduce a bill seeking the repeal of the dry laws at the coming session of the legislature. She states, however, that the members of the Presbyterian church were assembled with the other denominations at the time the resolutions were adopted and voted for them.

The resolutions adopted by the Cairo Methodist church call upon the representatives and senators in the state assembly to use their best efforts to see that no law affecting the present status of the prohibition question in Georgia be passed by the state legislature.

The Baptist resolutions also call for no weakening in prohibition laws and pledge full co-operation to the officers of the law in their enforcement.

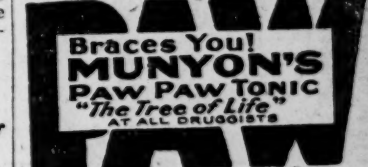

EGG LIKE TIMEPIECE Tignall Man Adds Another Freak to List.

In the barnyard of G. A. Ware, of Tignall, there struts a hen who holds the distinction of having laid an egg with a face like a watch, if that is any distinction.

Proof of the accomplishment has been received by The Constitution in the form of the egg itself. It has a large ring formed of 12 peculiar marks checked off at regular intervals like the hours of the day on a dial.

"This seems to be something exceptionally unusual," Mr. Ware writes. "Many people here say it is the most peculiar thing of the kind they ever saw."

For Sale in Atlanta by Jacobs Pharmacy and all other up-to-date druggists.—(adv.)

$10⁰⁰

Sizes 16 to 44

Sketched by our own Artist from models in stock

French Voile Dresses

Hand-Drawn---Hemstitched---Tucked
Sold Throughout the Country at $15

A good story bears repeating---so does a good sale. Last week we staged a sale of these dresses and couldn't take care of the crowds. Some who came for one dress went away with two or three. Many who came late were disappointed.

No other argument was needed to convince us that we MUST HAVE MORE of these frocks, so we wired our New York buyer to send us another "300 QUICK." They came yesterday---

200 Solid Color Voiles
100 Normandie Voiles

They are very fine dresses. That statement refers to the materials and workmanship, as well as the styles. All are beauties. Voiles are of cobweb sheerness, hand-drawn or tucked. Normandies are variously styled. All have round or bateau necks—sometimes with dainty white organdie or lace collar and cuffs. Colors include Nile, Beach, Pink, Orchid, Apricot, Maize, Light Blue, Copen, Navy, Brown, also White.

The Sale Starts at 9 O'Clock

KEELY'S

Tomorrow is the last Saturday of our sensational removal

SALE

Tomorrow is the last chance for you folks who must buy on Saturday---to buy good quality 3-piece suits for $21.95. The choice of any Kuppenheimer suit at $41.95. Good quality madras shirts at $1.29. Silk ties priced up to $1.50 at only 53c, and many other items of men's wear at greatly reduced prices.

EISEMAN'S
"54TH YEAR"
132-134 PEACHTREE ST. OPPOSITE CANDLER BLDG.

ROTARIANS NAME GUNDAKER HEAD

St. Louis, June 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gun Gundaker, of Philadelphia, was the only candidate nominated for the presidency of Rotary International at this afternoon's session of the organization's convention here. It was stated that Gundaker has no opponents for the office, his election is assured.

The Rotary International, at its fourteenth annual convention here today adopted a resolution increasing the annual dues of members from $5 to $2.50 to cover convention expenses, and reducing the convention registration fee from $10 to $5. Another resolution adopted pledged the support of Rotary to ethical newspapers.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS FUNERAL OF R. H. WEST

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—One of the largest crowds that ever attended a funeral in this city, today paid tribute to the memory of Richard H. West, 88, a pioneer citizen of Rome and one of the oldest Masonic officials in all Georgia. The funeral was held at the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. West had been a member for almost half a century. Services at the grave were in charge of local Masons.

Mr. West, a native of Tennessee, moved to Rome in 1860. For 51 years, he was secretary of the Cherokee lodge of Masons, and was elected honorary secretary for life last year when failing health forced him to give up active duty. He was also secretary of the seventh district Masonic convention for 20 years and an elder in the Presbyterian church for more than 40 years.

He is survived by two children, Mrs. Alfred Freeman, of New Orleans, and Roy R. West, of this city.

Consolidated Exchange Head To Resign Office

New York, June 21.—William S. Silkworth, president of the New York consolidated stock exchange, announced today that he would resign next Thursday.

In making known his intention to resign, Mr. Silkworth said:

"I am resigning for the interest of the exchange, which I feel I have been unable to do for personal reasons and that this fact has reacted to the great extent upon the exchange itself."

It was understood on the street that Lawrence Tweedy, vice president of the exchange had been unofficially selected to succeed Mr. Silkworth.

Epworth Leaguers To Hold Conference In Oxford June 25-27

Oxford, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—The North Georgia Epworth League conference meets in Oxford June 25, 26, 27. About 400 delegates are expected. A large delegation from Atlanta will be in attendance.

The delegates will occupy Haygood dormitory and hold their meetings in Young Allen Memorial church.

Leading leaguers of the state will be present.

Floyd Officers Seek Rome Men on Charges Preferred by Two Girls

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Sheriff Wilcox, who has been spending most of last night searching for two young white men, Fred Massey and a companion by the name of McArthur, who are charged with offenses against two young women who live in south Rome.

The warrants were sworn out by relatives of the young woman before Judge Trenday last night, and turned over to the sheriff. The specific charges were named as "misdemeanors." Officers have been unable to locate either of the men.

Floyd Girls Stage Community Contests In Bread-Making

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—More than 150 Floyd county club girls are in the midst of bread-making contests. Twelve of these community contests have been held during the last three days and winners will compete here on Saturday for the bread-baking championship of Floyd county.

A team of three girls will be selected at the county contest here and this team will represent the county at the district meet, which will be held early in July. Winners at the district meet will be given trips to Chicago as prizes.

FLOYD HAS SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF ARSENATE

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Floyd county has enough calcium arsenate on hand to protect her entire cotton crop if the supply is conserved—possibly the only county in Georgia of which this is true, according to County Farm Demonstration Agent Collins, who has just returned from a state meeting of county agents at Athens.

As a result of Mr. Collins' report, the Rome Chamber of Commerce today appointed speakers to visit every part of the county and urge upon farmers the necessity of conserving their cotton. The poison is available at cost, having been bought by local business men to be sold to the farmer without profit. The chamber of commerce speaking campaign opens tomorrow.

FOUR MULES PERISH AS ROME BARN BURNS

Rome, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Four mules and large quantities of hay and other feedstuffs were burned recently in the barn of Robert W. Graves, which is located only three blocks from the heart of the city.

Nothing is known as to the origin of the fire. Mr. Graves had been hauling in hay the better part of the day and was about the barn a great deal. The fire, when discovered at 11:30 o'clock had gained such headway that the prompt arrival of fire engine No. 1 from headquarters less than four blocks away could save neither the structure nor the contents.

Those who take ten minutes for lunch then rush back to work, should remember that digestion is at its best when eating is followed by a rest.

MOTOR CARAVAN NOW IN SAVANNAH

Continued From First Page.

all southeast Georgia making the formal opening of the wonderful automobile road of twenty-three miles, over rivers, salt water bays and marshes from Savannah to the famous southern seaside resort.

Events of the day.

The military maneuvers and field events presented by the United States army unit from Ft. Screven, a bathing girl contest on the Tybee beach in the early evening, and the opening of the tri-state dancing contest after supper.

The parade of more than 700 decorated automobiles over the smooth paved roads from Savannah to Tybee was a gay and impressive opener for the celebration, which will be continued tomorrow and will come to a close Saturday night.

F. J. Robinson, general passenger agent of the Central of Georgia railway, reported late Thursday that more than 12,000 people had attended the festivities marking the road's opening, over half of them driving to the island in 1,300 automobiles.

With the arrival of The Constitution motorcade at Tybee, practically with the full party that left Atlanta Wednesday, the touring organization disbanded temporarily, part of it to reassemble early Sunday morning to resume the tour, returning to Atlanta by way of Statesboro, Dublin, Macon, Griffin and intermediate points.

Party will separate.

O. J. Willoughby, editor of the motor and highways department of The Constitution, and director of the tour, stated Thursday night that probably a dozen cars would complete the round trip in a body. Occupants of others will remain at the seaside resort for a longer holiday, and still others will drive on to other watering places. All members of the tour had not fully made their plans Thursday night.

All expressed unalloyed delight at the success of the tour and especially for the wonderful hospitality with which they have been greeted and treated all along the route. Sea-coast tourists in the crowd, some of them veterans of many organized jaunts, said Thursday night that few tours have been conducted so smoothly. The Constitution's tour through its first two days.

The mechanical service furnished by Canick and the Quick service truck handled with ease the little tire trouble of the two days and two or three instances of mechanical trouble during the trip Thursday.

All members of The Constitution party answered 5:30 o'clock calls to begin the day's motorcade Thursday with smiles on their faces. The fatigue of the first day's trip and the excitement of the entertainment furnished by Greensboro, Thomson and Augusta left no marks of strain on them.

Led Out of Augusta.

The motorcade was led out of Augusta by a delegation from the Augusta Motor club, which first showed the way through two of the principal residence streets. From Augusta to Waynesboro the roads were in superb condition and the pace-maker bowled along at a rate that pressed the state speed limit of 30 miles an hour closely.

All along the route were evidences that the state highway department had kept its promise to put the roads in good shape. More than a dozen road gangs were passed during the trip, at least one in each county. Fortunately weather conditions, occasional sprinkles of rain that laid much of the dust, without impairing the roads or wetting the tourists, contributed to the pleasure of the trip.

At the first rest stop of the day, the travelers found Waynesboro ready and waiting. A committee headed by the mayor, Arthur Evans, Jack Lance, C. W. Wheeler and others, with a committee of ladies of the town presided over a refreshment stand from which cold drinks, cigars, and flowers were distributed among the visitors. Little Mary Brinson, daughter of G. L. Brinson, presented The Constitution, through its official representatives, with an enormous bouquet of flowers she had plucked herself from her mother's garden. Boutonnieres were placed in the lapels of all the men in the party by the committee of little flower girls and each lady was given a large bouquet. The flowers had all been gathered after sunrise and were moist and sparkling with dew. Flowers were also thrown into The Constitution cars as they passed Estills station on Tybee just before the end of the tour.

Sardis Entertainment.

The big entertainment of the morning came at Sardis, an avowed rival of its county seat town, whose citizens are working for the creation of a new county out of Burke and Screven to be called Greener county.

Here, too, in Greensboro, where was enjoyed the most elaborate hospitality of Wednesday's many ovals, there are no civic or commercial clubs and the recreation and entertainment of the tourists was a general community event unaided by any particular organization. The Sardis committee, headed by Mayor W. D. Bell, while Mrs. A. W. Mays, president of the Order of the Eastern Star, with a committee including the entire membership of the Sardis chapter of the order, prepared and served the delicious chicken breakfast. W. H. Sheppard, member of Mayor Bell's committee, developed Tussing and Wiggins to securing the county for the most succulent young chickens that section of south Georgia could produce.

Each member of the touring party was served with a whole spring chicken, hot beaten biscuits, hominy, chicken gravy, iced tea and coffee.

Mayor's Committee.

Mayor Bell's committee included Mayor pro tem G. W. Barrow, Dr. J. M. Cook, councilman; Dr. W. W. Hillis, Dave Darling, J. A. Davis, A. W. Mays, J. G. Haesler, R. G. Rackley, N. A. Elliott and E. L. Jenkins.

Mrs. May's committee included Mrs. J. F. Chance, Mrs. W. M. Mulkey, Mrs. R. G. Rackley, Mrs. Grady Forth, Miss Agnes Jenkins, Mrs. W. H. Sheppard, Mrs. M. P. Chance, Mrs. Dave Darling, Mrs. W. D. Bell, Miss Ola Herrington and Mrs. J. A. Davis.

In addition some of the prettiest young matrons and girls of the town assisted in serving.

After the breakfast, which was served in a vacant store room, the only vacant store room in the entire town, motion pictures of the crowd were taken by Tye Sanders, official photographer for the Atlanta-Tybee tour. Efforts to make motion pictures at Waynesboro were fruitless because the hour was so early that there was insufficient light for good pictures.

Arrive in Savannah.

A brisk hour's ride took the tourists into Savannah, the capital of Screven county, where probably the most unique entertainment of the trip had been prepared. The reception committee of leading citizens met the motorcade in automobiles several miles out of town. Button-holing the men in the visiting crowd, the members of the reception committee, in ostentatious whispers, invited them to visit a moonshine still that was running in full blast in a grove right in the center of Savannah.

The still was a handsome polished copper affair of 20-gallon capacity which was captured two months ago in the lower end of Screven county. The original owner, at liberty under bond, was an interested onlooker as, the apparatus was converted from a dispenser of moonshine whisky to a dispenser of delicious and refreshing lemonade. A placard on the outfit read "the last still in Screven county."

The reception committee was headed by C. D. Hollingsworth, president of the Screven County Co-operative association, whose membership includes both business men of Savannah and farmers of the surrounding country. The members included A. L. Clarke, J. A. Mills, P. R. Kittles, J. S. Powell, G. T. Sharp, E. H. Thomson, J. H. Howard, E. K. Overstreet, Jr., Mayor W. G. Sharpe and Editor W. M. Hobby, of the Savannah Telephone.

Ladies' Committee.

The committee of ladies who served the drinks and sandwiches and looked after the comfort of the feminine tourists was headed by Mrs. G. M. Overstreet and included Mrs. E. H. Thomson, Mrs. E. K. Overstreet, Jr., Mrs. G. T. Sharpe, Mrs. J. H. Howard, Mrs. W. G. Sharpe, Mrs. William Hobby and others.

The welcoming committee from Savannah, which met the tourists under a huge sign reading "welcome" was agent of the Central of Georgia railway, reported late Thursday that more than 12,000 people had attended the festivities marking the road's opening, over half of them driving to the island in 1,300 automobiles.

With the arrival of The Constitution motorcade at Tybee, practically with the full party that left Atlanta Wednesday, the touring organization disbanded temporarily, part of it to reassemble early Sunday morning to resume the tour, returning to Atlanta by way of Statesboro, Dublin, Macon, Griffin and intermediate points.

No Holiday Damper.

The martial law, declared as the result of the attempt of a so-called mob to gain possession of a negro accused of a serious statutory crime Tuesday, placed no damper on the holiday spirit of Savannah. City officials declared that it had not caused any reduction in the crowd expected to attend the celebration.

The crowd at Tybee today, incidentally surpassed by 1,500 people the largest crowd that had ever poured into the resort before.

No evidence of the trouble of Tuesday night was seen by the visitors. The Constitution party, detained around the section of the city in which troops are still on guard and did not see a single soldier during the day. Martial law is to be lifted Friday or Saturday, it was indicated by officials tonight.

Road Formally Opened.

Savannah, Ga., June 21.—Georgia's greatest auto road was formally opened today with elaborate ceremonies. The road connects the city of Savannah with the town of Tybee, at the edge of the Atlantic ocean, and is cost nearly $2,000,000. At 11 o'clock this morning to the screaming of whistles and ringing of bells, a caravan of several hundred cars, assembled at Victory drive and Waters avenue got under way in one great procession to traverse for the first time this highway of 15 miles to tidewater.

The two guns presented the Chant-ham artillery by George Washington did their bit in making the opening auspicious.

If the weather had been made to order the committee in charge of arrangements could have asked for none better. Dawning bright and fair, this morning waxed into a beautiful day and the temperature was just at the right degree to make everyone feel comfortable.

Decorations of all kinds were to be seen on the automobiles in the parade. Many of these were very original and attracted considerable attention. Banners and streamers were used to good advantage, but every eye was taken that none of the decorations would obscure vision of the drivers and thus cause accident.

No Serious Accidents.

The trip to Tybee was without serious accidents, the road being in very excellent shape. The long line of cars was indeed a great sight, stretching out for an almost unlimited distance. The causeway across the marsh between Bull river and St. Augustine creek was found to be better built and more solid than was popularly imagined before the parade. The road will stand unlimited wear.

The formal opening of the Tybee road took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon, with addresses by county and city officials on Tybira pavilion. The attendance far exceeded expectations and it was with great enthusiasm that the program was carried out. There were several thousand visitors in town from points adjacent Savannah. Atlanta sent a great caravan and Augusta, Macon and smaller towns are well represented. The festivities are to continue three days.

Woman Nears Drowning.

Savannah, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. W. H. Haskaway, of Atlanta, had a narrow escape from drowning today at Tybee, the only reported near-casualty of the day with more than 7,000 persons at the beach.

While in bathing a heavy roll of surf knocked her down and she was struggling when Frank Henson, also of Atlanta, nearby, rescued her, bearing her to the land.

She was unconscious for a time, but entirely recovered from the effects of the experience within an hour.

COUNCIL FAVORS BOND ISSUE ELECTION

Continued From First Page.

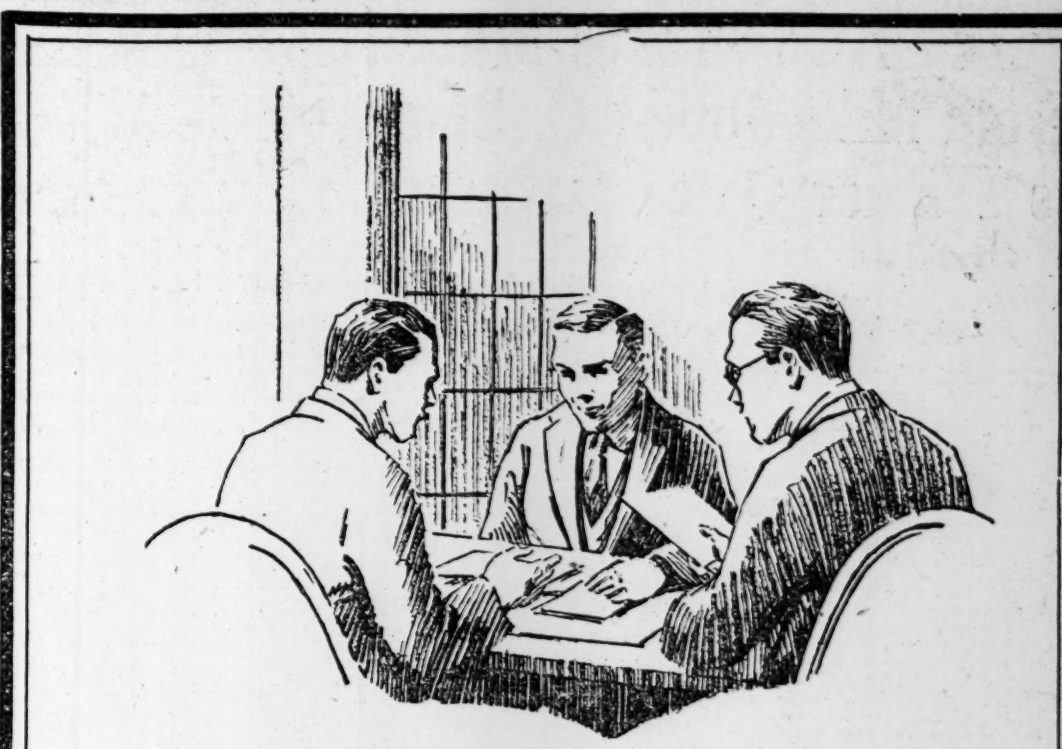

year to supervise expenditure of the school and improvement funds be retained to supervise expenditure of the park funds in the event the $2,000,000 was voted by the people, was unanimously adopted.

Councilman W. C. Jenkins also endeavored to amend the ordinance by offering a measure providing for changing the date of the special election from August 1 until September 5—the date of the city primary—but his motion was lost.

Members of the real estate board intimated after adjournment of council that owing to the delay of two weeks in definite action on the ordinance, they would probably request that the date be changed until the September primary, owing to the fact that it requires formal notice of thirty days before any election can be held. Since council does not meet until Monday, July 2, this would only allow twenty-nine days before the special election.

City Attorney James L. Mayson held that a separate vote by council and the aldermanic board was necessary on the amended McLendon ordinance, since the measure involved contemplated expenditure of municipal funds. This was the reason why council only was permitted to vote on the original measure. The aldermanic board is yet to vote on it at its next session and the mayor will have to approve it before the matter is definitely settled.

A Silent Partner

Within the last twelve years we have acted as a "silent partner" for scores of business enterprises in this section.

In a number of instances we have been able to lend an unbiased outsider's viewpoint, which our customers have told us proved invaluable.

Whether the matter involves large sums or small, your problem will receive sound, sympathetic consideration. We will be glad to talk things over at your convenience.

Our broad-gauged Commercial, Savings and Trust Departments offer you in this one bank every service that you can secure in a commercial bank, savings bank, or trust company.

FVLTON
NATIONAL BANK

The Friendly Bank of Atlanta.

Something Cool

Is In The Minds Of Men Today. If You Want That Something Cool Come Here Today

And See Our Big Variety of Lightweight Tropical Suits—The Best Are Hand-Tailored—Fit Fine And Warranted Cool And Pleasant—$25 to $50.

Mohairs—Palm Beach—Poplins And Linens—In A Wide Range Of Patterns And Colors—According To Material

$13.50 to $35

White And Striped Flannel Trousers $7.50 to $13.50

Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Co.

HOTEL ST. JAMES

TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK CITY

Just off Broadway at 109-113 West 45th St.

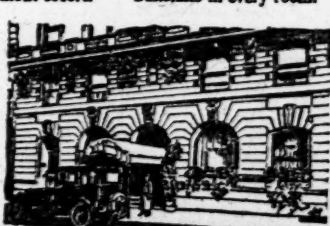

Much favored by women traveling without escort. "Sunshine in every room."

An Hotel of quiet dignity, having the atmosphere and appointments of a well-conditioned home.

40 Theatres, all principal shops and churches, 3 to 5 minutes' walk.

2 minutes of all subways, "L" roads, surface cars, bus lines.

Within 3 minutes Grand Central, 5 minutes Pennsylvania Terminal.

Send postal for rates and booklet. W. JOHNSON QUINN, President

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

THE ORIGINAL WORCESTERSHIRE

Constipation goes, and energy, pep and vim return when taking CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS. Keep stomach sweet—liver active—bowels regular—only 25c.

DROPSY TREATED ONE WEEK FREE. Short breathing relieved in 24 to 36 hours. Swelling reduced in 15 to 20 days. Wonderful Discovery. Write for free trial treatment. Collins Dropsy Remedy Co., Dept. M, Atlanta, Ga.

Comfort Your Skin With Cuticura Soap and Fragrant Talcum. Soap, Ointment, Talcum, 25c. everywhere. Samples free of Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. X, Malden, Mass.

CURLY HAIR CAN BE CURLY, even though you have short, wavy hair. Just use QUEEN Hair Dressing and watch your hair grow long, smooth and wavy. QUEEN removes dandruff, stops falling hair. Sold Everywhere. Send 25c. today for big box. Agents Wanted. Write today and get beautiful presents FREE. Newbro Mfg. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Headquarters For Elk Emblems

Lapel Buttons, Rings, Charms, etc., made in heavy solid gold finely enameled in correct colors, are shown here in an abundant variety of sizes and styles.

Call and let us show you the south's best stock of Elk Emblems.

Headquarters for Gifts That Last.

If out of Atlanta write for 28th annual catalog.

Mail orders shipped prepaid.

Maier & Berkele, Inc.
Gold and Silversmiths,
31 Whitehall Street,
Established 1887.

GIFTS THAT LAST

CRACKERS SPIT FIRE WITH CHATTANOOGA

Nashville Will Come Today For Two Games; Ladies' Day To Be Held This Afternoon

Bennie Karr Turns in His Eleventh Victory For Season in First Game, but Cliff Best Drops Second Affair 4 to 3.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

It is not often that these Crackers of ours fail to extend the glad hand of welcome to opportunity. Usually the fightingest collection of ball players in the Southern league is waiting at the door. Opportunity doesn't even have to knock.

But yesterday at Ponce de Leon the Crackers declined to answer the call until it was too late and what might have been a twin killing at the expense of the Chattanooga Lookouts was turned into nothing more than an even split, the Crackers winning the first game, 6-3, while the Lookouts were victors in the second, 4-3.

Two triumphs were badly needed. New Orleans ran into considerable trouble with the Memphis Chickens, dropping a doubleheader after winning an even dozen games in a row, so a pair of victories would have put the Crackers within whispering distance of the Pelicans, who have held the first prize so long that fans of this circuit believe they've become glued to the spot.

As it is, the Crackers gained just about a full game on the Pels. This is much better, of course, than losing ground to the pace-setters, but supporters of the Atlanta club had hoped the Crackers would materially reduce New Orleans' lead, while the Lookouts, who have been having their troubles recently, were in town.

The series, which drew to a close yesterday, ended in a fifty-fifty knot, each club winning two victories. The Crackers dropped the opener, but came back in fine fashion the next day and crushed the opposition. And Thursday's doubleheader was divided. Atlanta fans will get their last chance for some time to see their heroes in action Friday and Saturday, when the Nashville Vols invade. Saturday night the boys will pull out for many games on the road. New Orleans and Mobile being the cities to be visited by the tourists.

Karr's Great Work.

Bennie Karr, out for his eleventh victory since the campaign got under way, was in superb form during the early innings of the first game and was never in danger of being defeated. As is his custom, Karr has his margin to spare. Benny kept on his firing as the evening hours surrounded him. It was after he eased up that the Lookouts shot over three runs, but when they attempted to invade a ninth inning rebellion, Benny closed up shop and moved on down.

Cliff Best, Cracker pitcher in the second encounter, was off from the start and never looked to be the winner. He was hit hard in the second inning, but escaped punishment on account of the Lookouts' bad base running. In the second and third he outplayed nicely, but from the fourth, when the Lookouts scored twice, to the end, Cliff was rather shaky.

The Crackers fought their usual uphill battle in this game, but after getting within striking distance of victory, the boys fell down twice in the pinches. It was additional proof, however, that the Atlanta team is not defeated until the last man is out. Southern circuit pitchers will realize that fact one of these days, instead of yelping about the lucky "breaks" the Crackers are getting.

Wasted Few Blows.

The Crackers wasted few pokes in the first game. It took them one out to get the range on Morris, who has pitched many fine games for the Lookouts, but starting in the second the locals kept up a steady attack on the pinches. It was additional proof, however, that the Atlanta team is not defeated until the last man is out. Southern circuit pitchers will realize that fact one of these days, instead of yelping about the lucky "breaks" the Crackers are getting.

Atlanta pounded over six runs before the Lookouts found the way to the home station. The opening run was fired in the second inning after Herman's long fly to left had been safely pulled in by John Anderson. Burke singled to right and swiped second, Yockey topped to Cy Anderson, Ring walked and both runners scored on Johnny Burke's triple to the scoreboard.

The Crackers kept up the firing in the third and scored once. Karr's single to center was the opener. Moore followed with another that dropped safely just beyond second. Guyon hit to Shauer, who fumbled. Karr scoring on the hobble. They advanced on Barber's sacrifice, but Herman struck out and Burke popped to Cy Anderson.

Three runs in the fourth finished Morris. Yockey walked and Ring sacrificed. Brock singled to center. Yockey stopping at third. Karr went out, Morris to Cy Anderson, and Yockey scored on the play. Moore beat out a grounder toward first and Brock scored when Cy Anderson made a poor throw. Moore going to third. Guyon beat out a bunt, scoring Moore, but the Indian was then caught off first by Morris.

The Lookouts scored two runs in the seventh. John Anderson singled to center and went to third on Shauer's double to right. Anderson scoring when Herman's return to the infield was low, Shauer reaching third on the play. Windfield struck out and Clayton went to Karr to Barber. Shauer scoring on the play.

Lookouts' Score Again. The Lookouts' last run came in the eighth. Cy Anderson was an infield out, but Hauger and Leonard each singled. Morrow struck out and Hauger scored when John Anderson sin-

WILLARD TO BE EXAMINED

Trenton, N. J., June 21.—State Comptroller Bugbee, director of the Jersey State boxing commission, ordered Jess Willard to report for physical examination before next Wednesday, to prevent a last minute slip-up in the Willard-Firpo bout for $100,000.

If Willard passes the inspection he will be permitted to face Louis Firpo, who the match will be called off.

The examination will be conducted under the supervision of Thomas Kilgus, Kilduff to select three physicians for the purpose.

"I have no objection to Willard boxing in New Jersey," said Bugbee today. "As a matter of fact, I regard him as a particularly high type, both as a boxer and a man."

So much so, he said, and written about his age and physical fitness to meet so rugged an opponent as Firpo that I regard it as my duty to throw about the match every possible safeguard.

"I anticipate no reluctance on Willard's part to undergo the examination. If there is any, the bout will have to be called off."

gled to center. Shauer hit to Ring at third and Leonard was run down for the third out.

The wonderful pinch hitting of the Lookouts in the second affair, plus the mighty home run crash of "Skinny" Shauer's—playing his day with Chattanooga—combined to spoil the Crackers' dream of annexing another double bill. The visitors put across two runs in the fourth on one hit. Clayton, first up, was hit by a pitched ball and reached second safely when Ring threw Bates' bunt too late to head off Clayton. Bates reaching first on the play. Cy Anderson popped to Hauger. Hauger hit a liner far over Guyon's head, scoring Clayton and Bates, and reached third himself but was called out for not touching second, getting credit for a single only.

Umpire Doolin's decision resulted in a flock of insults from Hauger and the latter was put out of the park by a foul ball. Hauger, followed by Shauer's home run to left in the fifth, gave the Lookouts the second game.

The Crackers scored their first run in the third. With one out Guyon doubled to center. Barber popped out, but Herman singled to center, scoring Guyon. A double play choked off a Cracker rally in the fifth, but two more runs were credited to Atlanta in the sixth. Moore, first up, lined out to Clayton. Guyon singled to right, hit third hit of the game, and went to second when Barber was an infield out. On a wild pitch Guyon went to third and Herman walked. Burke hit to Bates, who bobbed.

Guyon scoring, while Herman reached second and Burke first. Yockey singled to center, scoring Herman, but Johnny Ring fell down in the pinch by hitting a pop fly to Bates.

Another double play, the third pulled by the Lookouts in the second game, stopped the Crackers in the second. Miller, first up, singled, but Karr, batting for Best, hit into a double play. Moore then reached first on Cy Anderson's error and stole second, but Guyon fouled out to first for the last out.

Today will be ladies' day, it was announced last night by officials of the Atlanta Baseball company. This will give the feminine fans two days a week. Another announcement that will bring joy to the hearts of the younger fans of the city is that from now on Tuesday will be known as Kids' day when they share honors with the ladies.

CHATTANOOGA. The Box Score. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Clayton, cf. 4 0 1 1 0 0 0 Bates, 2b. 4 0 1 1 0 0 0 C. Anderson, 1b. 5 0 2 13 0 1 0 Hauger, rf. 4 1 2 2 0 0 0 Leonard, 3b. 4 0 0 2 0 0 0 Morrow, c. 4 0 0 2 0 0 0 J. Anderson, if. 4 1 2 3 0 0 0 Shauer, ss. 4 1 2 0 2 1 0 Morris, p. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Hind, p. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Windfield, p. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Nunamaker, p. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 37 3 10 24 12 2

ATLANTA. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Moore, ss. 4 1 2 3 4 0 0 Guyon, 1b. 4 0 1 12 0 0 Barber, 2b. 3 0 1 12 0 0 Burke, cf. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Yockey, 3b. 3 1 1 1 3 0 0 Ring, 3b. 2 1 1 1 2 0 0 Brock, c. 3 1 2 6 1 0 0 Karr, p. 5 1 1 0 2 0 0

Totals . . . 30 6 10 27 13 2

Score by innings: R. Chattanooga 000 010 000—6 Atlanta 000 000 000—0 Summary: Three-base hit, Brock; two-base hit, Shauer; stolen base, Burke; sacrifice hits, Barber, Ring; left on bases, Chattanooga 9, Atlanta 4; base on balls, off Morris 3, off Hauger 2; struck out, by Morris 4, by Best 2; hit by pitcher, off Windfield 1, off Guyon 1, off Morrow 3; losing pitcher, Morris. Umpires, Delan and Johnson. Time of game, 2:10.

SECOND GAME. The Box Score. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Clayton, cf. 2 1 2 1 0 0 0 Bates, 2b. 2 1 0 1 2 0 0 C. Anderson, 1b. 3 0 2 8 1 0 0 Hauger, rf. 2 1 0 1 0 0 0 Cunningham, 3b. 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 Leonard, 2b. 3 0 0 4 1 0 0 Nunamaker, c. 3 0 1 2 2 0 0 J. Anderson, if. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Burke, cf. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 Miller, c. 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 Best, p. 2 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 23 4 7 21 10 2

Score by innings: R. Chattanooga 000 020 000—3 Atlanta 000 000 000—0 Summary: Two-base hits, Shauer; stolen bases, Moore; sacrifice, Bates; double plays, Bates to Shauer to C. Anderson, Shauer to Leonard to C. Anderson, Bates to Leonard to C. Anderson; left on bases, Chattanooga 2, Atlanta 5; base on balls, off Guyon 2, off Best 2; struck out, by Guyon 1, by Best 2; hit by pitcher, by Best (Clayton). Umpires, Johnson and Doolan. Time of game, 1:10.

American League

ST. LOUIS WINS. Boston, June 21.—St. Louis made it four out of five for the series by winning from Boston today, 3 to 1. Kip Land the home team to five hits, Mitchell's triple and an infield out, giving Boston its single run in the first inning. The Sox, however, were able to throw the Sox's pitcher, who was instrumental in scoring two St. Louis runs.

The Box Score. St. Louis, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Tobin, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Robertson, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Jacobson, cf. 4 1 2 3 0 0 0 McMahon, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Buras, 3b. 4 0 1 1 1 0 0 Gerdner, ss. 4 0 1 1 1 0 0 Sullivan, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Schuler, 1b. 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 Kopp, p. 5 0 2 0 3 1 0

Totals . . . 31 3 8 27 6 1

BOSTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Mitchell, ss. 4 1 2 0 3 0 0 C. Anderson, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Heide, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Flanagan, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 McMillan, 3b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Pierce, p. 5 0 1 1 3 0 0 Sullivan, 1b. 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Ferguson, p. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 32 1 5 27 14 1

Score by innings: R. St. Louis 000 000 010—3 Boston 000 000 000—0 Summary: Three-base hit, Williams; double play, Schuler; sacrifice hits, Jacobson, McMahon; base on balls, St. Louis 3, Boston 5; base on error, St. Louis 2, Boston 2; hit by pitcher, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; hit by batter, St. Louis 1, Boston 1; stolen bases, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; errors, St. Louis 1, Boston 1. Time, 1:30.

ATHLETICS LOSE. Philadelphia, June 21.—Chicago took the final game of the series from Philadelphia today, 4 to 2. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play.

The Box Score. Philadelphia, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Hoyer, rf. 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

PHILA. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Washington, June 21.—Washington scored four runs in the ninth inning today to defeat Cleveland, 6 to 5, and to take the series. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play.

The Box Score. Washington, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Southern League

BARONS GET EARLY LEAD AND WIN. Birmingham, Ala., June 21.—By jumping on Faeth in the first inning and hitting him for a home run, the Barons won the Nashville series, making it three out of five. The score was 6 to 3. The Barons scored five of their runs in the first inning. Flip Sean, who has been the star of the game for the past four days under suspension by Empire "Steamboat" Johnson was back in the lineup. Hartford was put out of the game in the sixth by Umpire Jorda for protesting a close decision on a foul ball before the plates.

The Box Score. Nashville, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Murray, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Wade, if. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Guyler, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Haley, cf. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 31 2 7 24 11

BIRMINGHAM. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Stewart, 2b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Neun, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Neun, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 Neun, 1b. 4 0 0 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 32 1 5 27 14 1

Score by innings: R. Nashville 000 000 010—3 Birmingham 000 000 000—0 Summary: Three-base hit, Robertson; sacrifice hits, Jacobson, McMahon; base on balls, St. Louis 3, Boston 5; base on error, St. Louis 2, Boston 2; hit by pitcher, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; hit by batter, St. Louis 1, Boston 1; stolen bases, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; errors, St. Louis 1, Boston 1. Time, 1:30.

ATHLETICS LOSE. Philadelphia, June 21.—Chicago took the final game of the series from Philadelphia today, 4 to 2. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play.

The Box Score. Philadelphia, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Hoyer, rf. 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

PHILA. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Washington, June 21.—Washington scored four runs in the ninth inning today to defeat Cleveland, 6 to 5, and to take the series. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play.

The Box Score. Washington, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

ARNOLD IS VICE-PRES.

Birmingham, Ala., June 21.—H. F. Smith, of Nashville, was re-elected president of the Southern Amateur Golf association, at the meeting of the directors here Wednesday. Mr. Smith has served as head of the association for many years, and his re-election was expected.

Lowry Arnold, of Atlanta, was re-elected vice president, while there were only a few changes made in the board of directors.

The 1924 tournament will be awarded at the February meeting of the association, it was announced. The Louisville Country club, of Louisville, and the Baltimore Forest Club, of Baltimore, N. C., have invited the association to stage its tournament at their clubs next year.

National League

CUBS BLANK CARDS. St. Louis, Mo., June 21.—Hitting opportunity in the sixth and seventh innings, Chicago shut out St. Louis 4 to 0, here this afternoon, changing made the batting order failed to save the Cardinals from their fourth successive defeat.

The Box Score. Chicago, ab. r. h. po. a. e. St. Louis, ab. r. h. po. a. e. St. Louis, ab. r. h. po. a. e. St. Louis, ab. r. h. po. a. e. St. Louis, ab. r. h. po. a. e.

Totals . . . 32 0 0 0 0 0 0

Score by innings: R. Chicago 000 000 000—0 St. Louis 000 000 000—0 Summary: Three-base hit, Robertson; sacrifice hits, Jacobson, McMahon; base on balls, St. Louis 3, Boston 5; base on error, St. Louis 2, Boston 2; hit by pitcher, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; hit by batter, St. Louis 1, Boston 1; stolen bases, St. Louis 2, Boston 1; errors, St. Louis 1, Boston 1. Time, 1:30.

ATHLETICS LOSE. Philadelphia, June 21.—Chicago took the final game of the series from Philadelphia today, 4 to 2. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play. The Athletics scored two runs in the fourth on a double play.

The Box Score. Philadelphia, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Hoyer, rf. 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

PHILA. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Collins, 2b. 4 1 1 0 2 0 0 Most, cf. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Falk, if. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Kamm, 3b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Schalk, c. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 35 6 11 27 6

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Washington, June 21.—Washington scored four runs in the ninth inning today to defeat Cleveland, 6 to 5, and to take the series. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play. The Indians scored three runs in the ninth on a double play.

The Box Score. Washington, ab. r. h. po. a. e. Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0 Wambach, 2b. 4 2 2 0 3 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6 9 27 11

WASHINGTON. ab. r. h. po. a. e. Rice, rf. 5 1 2 4 0 0 0 McGinnis, ss. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 Goss, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0 Judge, 1b. 4 1 1 0 0 0 0

Totals . . . 34 6

WILL NAME SUCCESSOR TO PRESIDENT BETTS

To elect a successor to George T. Betts, president, whose death occurred several days ago, a special meeting of the executive committee of the Georgia association has been called for Thursday, June 28, it was announced yesterday.

chamber of commerce building. Vice-President C. K. C. Ausler, who is acting president, will preside.

DEPLETED TREASURY HOLDS UP PENSIONS

Owing to the depleted condition of the state treasury, officials at the capitol have abandoned hope of being able to pay the remaining half of the Confederate pensions before the legislature convenes next Wednesday.

Th amount required for this payment is about $500,000 and the treasury has not that amount available now. Many of the county tax collectors have not made their final settlement with the comptroller general's office as yet, with the result that income and outgo of the treasury has been running a close race.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1923.

Dr. McIntosh Wins Libel Suit Brought By Homer Williams

Thomasville, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—A verdict in favor of the defendant was brought in by the jury in the damage suit for $50,000 brought by Homer Williams against Dr. T. M. McIntosh for libel.

Some time ago Dr. McIntosh wrote letters and circulars in which he charged Mr. Williams, chairman of the county commissioners, with acts favoring his business associates in making contracts with the county and other minor matters in that connection. As a result, Mr. Williams brought suit charging Dr. McIntosh with libel.

The case was on trial several days in the city court here and was hard fought on both sides. Both men are quite prominent and large crowds attended the trial.

COMMUNISM STIRS HATRED OF CAPITAL

Continued From First Page.

vest, or class hatred, the crop the communists always reap and use to their advantage.

Hatred as a Narcotic. The guiding spirit of communism, remember, live in Moscow, Russia, and are the "inner circle" of the communist international and the red trade union international. The former is supposed to be a political organization and the latter an industrial organization, but both movements are identical in control, in aim, in inception and objective. The one is the right hand, the other the left hand, of disorder and destruction. Both seek the downfall of civilization and Christianity.

The members of the "inner circle," adept in the art of deception, intrigue and falsehood, devote their entire time to formulating prescriptions on how to create unrest, distrust and class consciousness, so the disease of class hatred may be all the more deepened.

These prescriptions, after being formulated, are sent to the United States by private messengers, for the mails are not trusted. They go to the "inner circle" of the movement, known as the central executive committee of the communist party, where they are rewritten to suit local conditions and the particular groups to which they are to be given. Through the membership of the communist party they are passed to the public. They always make their appearance among the workers, or the farmers, as honest suggestions for desirable reforms, usually legislative in character. They are, however, not designed to cure real or fancied evils, but to intensify these evils, for the "inner circle" of the movement, through the masses can be brought to communism only through "bitter experiences."

Disclosures in Court.

The trials of William Z. Foster and C. E. Ruthenberg, two of the leading members of the "inner circle" in the United States, for violation of the criminal syndicalism law of Michigan, the jury in the former case disagreeing and in the latter case bringing in a verdict of guilty, brought to light many of these Moscow formulated prescriptions for American consumption, but one in particular which should be of special interest to the people of the United States. It was signed "The Executive Committee of the Communist International, Bucharin, Redek and Kusinen."

This document was smuggled into this country. So secret was it that members of the "inner circle" in the United States were cautioned about it being put in any printed or written form. It was taken to the communist convention at Bridgman, the raiding of which resulted in the Foster and Ruthenberg trials, with 74 other communists yet to face juries, by Jay Lovestone, secretary of the "inner circle," and there read to the delegates.

The document is lengthy. It is specific in its directions. There is no mistaking the language or purpose. It goes into detail how the agents of soviet Russia in the United States are to further unrest, distrust and class consciousness that class hatred may result. It insists these agents proceed according to directions and be relentless in their system of giving the people "bitter experiences" that these people may the quicker see the benefits and advantages of the soviet form of government. There is no thought of aid or comfort for the masses; no suggestions for honest reforms; no expression of sympathy for their burdens. On the contrary, the document is careful to tell how to increase these sufferings, these burdens and sorrows, and then points out when, with them increased almost to the breaking point, they are to be used as examples of the crushing power of the capitalist system. The exact language of the document follows:

"The communist party must remember it is not its purpose to reform the capitalist state. The purpose, on the contrary, is to cure the working masses of their reformist illusions through bitter experiences."

And how to cure these "reformist illusions" and give the people the "bitter experiences" necessary to gain communist recruits is told in the following language:

"Demands upon the state for immediate concessions to the workers must be formulated, not to be reasonable from the point of view of the state, but to be reasonable from the point of view of the struggling workers, regardless of the state's power to grant them without weakening itself."

Naturally demands to gain any kind of recognition must come from well known and recognized sources. It was the proposal of the "inner circle" in Russia that these demands in the United States come from two great groups, the workers and the farmers. To do this it became necessary for the communists to gain control in these groups so that these ideas might be placed into operation.

As to control of the working group, the document says: "It is necessary to bring about the common mass action of workers who are not communists. The communists must penetrate the working masses to the utmost, must work with them, must live and fight with them and lead them in both the major and minor battles. The uniting of the workers in a general organization, and the joining of these organizations into a closer relationship—this is the task facing the communist party of America."

This idea of "joining these various organizations into a closer relationship," the task of communists, has been carried on by the Trade Union Educational Council under the direction of William Z. Foster, which will be treated more fully in the next article. But the workers were not alone to be furnished "bitter experiences." The farmers also must have their "reformist illusions" removed through being induced to make "unreasonable demands" upon the government, which demands, when refused, to be used by communist agitators, to show the failure of the so-called "capitalist state" to listen to the requests of the masses. How to induce farmers to "fall" for this system, is set forth in the document as follows:

"Certain mass organizations which are not only communist, but are not proletarian in their composition, must be utilized by communist strategy, as, for instance, the existing mass movements of the small farmers, and even movements of the middle class farmers in some instances."

Do not overlook the fact that in labor circles the communists do control, rather openly, many unions, and they have likewise, but carefully concealing it, annexed a number of farmers' organizations, unions, and even the nonpartisan league and the farmer-labor party. But to make "unreasonable" demands prominent and appear the "cry of the people," the field of politics must be entered. This is not overlooked by the "inner circle" in Russia, for the same documents says:

"The general elections are not to be rejected as merely peaceful movements with which the communists have nothing to do. . . . The communists must participate in general elections, municipal, state, congressional and presidential. . . . Class conscious, courageous and wise communists, as the elected representatives of the workers, can always find the possibilities in the various institutions of the state, in one way or another, to give object lessons to revolutionize the working class."

Then, with the crop ready to harvest, the "inner circle" of conspirators in Russia send specific directions as to "unreasonable demands" to be made upon the government. That these demands might have weight with the thinking, control is secured of workers' and farmers' organizations. Every effort is made to elect "class conscious, courageous and wise communists" to office, who, being thus in a position of strength, can urge the adoption of these "unreasonable demands." If adopted, the state is of necessity weakened, and so an easy prey for communists; if decided to be used as proof positive that the masses can hope for no relief through the "capitalist state." A well conceived scheme, and, what is more, one that has been cleverly employed in the United States.

Go back only a year. Note the character of "demands" for legislative relief that came from various parts of the country. Get clearly in your mind the "class conscious, courageous and wise" men who were swept into various state legislatures, into congress or are now governors of more than one state. Place the facts together and do your own reasoning. The Russian document quoted offers 22 suggestions for demands but says these suggestions are to be modified and changed to suit local conditions. Here are two of them, one appealing to the worker, and one appealing to the farmer:

"A constitutional amendment forbidding such laws as the Kansas industrial court law."

"The national monopoly and operation at cost of all grain elevators excepting those in the hands of bonafide farmers' co-operatives, or which in the future may be established by such organizations."

The next article will deal with the "industrial department" of the communist party of America, known in labor circles as the Trade Union Industrial League, and its system of "boring from within" the American Federation of Labor to destroy that organization, as the first step to the revolution in the United States.

(Because of the brevity of this series of articles many of the readers will want more complete data on the various phases discussed. A letter setting forth just the information sought, directed to Fred H. Marvin, care of this paper, will be personally answered by mail as promptly as possible. This paper has arranged with Mr. Marvin to render this service to its readers and at no expense to such readers.—The Editor.)

Mail Orders Filled Same Day Received

King Hardware Co.

At Any of Our Ten Big Stores

See These In Our Show Windows

Summer Sale of Wheel Goods

Keep the children outdoors. Store up health now for the years to come. Fresh air, sunshine and exercise. These wheel goods, now greatly reduced, will give your kiddies all of these and much fun besides.

Bicycles for Boys and Girls, MEN AND WOMEN

Boys' and girls' bicycles now priced—
Men's and women's bicycles now priced—

Irish Mail	Scooters	Wagons
Brightly painted—strongly made— —a lot of jolly fun for	Disc wheels, rubber tired, ball bearing; a real $5.00 value. We are selling them now for only	"Chief Scout," roller bearings; steel-tired wheels. A $9.00 value; now selling for
$5.50, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00	$3.75	$6.95

Wagons	Automobiles
"Kiddie-Koaster," disc wheels, rubber tired, roller bearings; none better made. According to size	12 different styles, colors and sizes for little fellows and big. They range in price from
$3 to $15	$10 Up

Girls' Tricycles	Velocipedes	Kiddie Kars
Rubber-tired; leatherette upholstered seat; a sturdy, lasting toy. Now reduced to	Rubber-tired wheels. Priced according to size and style	A regular $4.00 seller. Extra special for this sale at
$18.00	$4.50 to $22.50 Steel Tired $2.50 to $4.50	$2.75

Shoo Fly or Rocking Horse

A "Joy Bringer" for indoors or outdoors. Many sizes and styles to select from in our big stock.

$2.50 value, now $1.75 $3.00 value, now $2.25
$3.50 value, now $2.75

King Hardware Company

We have spent 37 years building a distribution system to give you good service everywhere. Thus, with the 5¢ price, the highest possible quality in a beverage is within easy reach of one and all.

Drink Coca-Cola 5¢

Delicious and Refreshing

The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga.

DANGER SIGNALS OF INDIGESTION

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning.

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning, by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system "lets down" in tone and vigor with the first approach of warm weather.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical books tell us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of the stomach after eating. This means that the gas has ballooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull, lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Testiness, unrefreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometimes, pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are too apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above, get your digestive organs to work at once with Dan-Nax, the greatest prescription that was ever written for a digestive tonic. Dan-Nax immediately aids and assists every one of your digestive organs, including the stomach, liver and bowels. Dan-Nax makes your digestion "perfect and complete." You feel its helpful effect from the very first dose. Get a bottle of Dan-Nax today at any drug store. Dan-Nax is so much superior to any other remedy for indigestion that the manufacturers have instructed every druggist to refund the price if you do not get relief, so it costs you nothing if you are not delighted with results. Delay might be dangerous, get Dan-Nax today.—(adv.)

BANKRUPT SALE

J.E. Brown Clothing Co.
TWO DAYS MORE
Friday and Saturday

Entire Stock of MEN'S CLOTHING, HATS, CAPS and HABERDASHERY

To Be Sold at Bankrupt Prices

COMPLETE SET OF FIXTURES FOR SALE

Allen M. Pierce
116 Peachtree Street
(Piedmont Hotel)

Beautiful Summer Dresses

To move this late shipment of lovely summer dresses, we have not only lowered the prices, but have cut the terms to

$1 DOWN--$1 WEEK

See these in our windows. They are as beautiful as any summer dress you have ever seen. Materials are—
Normandy Voiles, Schiffli Embroidered Voiles, Gingham, Organdy, Linen, Ratine, and Linene
Prices Range From

$6.95 to $16.75

Suit Clearance 33 1/3% OFF

Wanted materials such as Tricotine, Poiré, Twill, Velour, etc. Navy and black mostly, but a few other colors. Some embroidered, some plain, others trimmed with braid. Formerly priced $19.75 to $32.50, with the majority from $31.75 to $53.50. One-third off of these prices now.

Liberal Credit—Free Alterations

One Lot of Waists Only $1.00

Many styles and colors to select from. A REAL BARGAIN to the early comers.

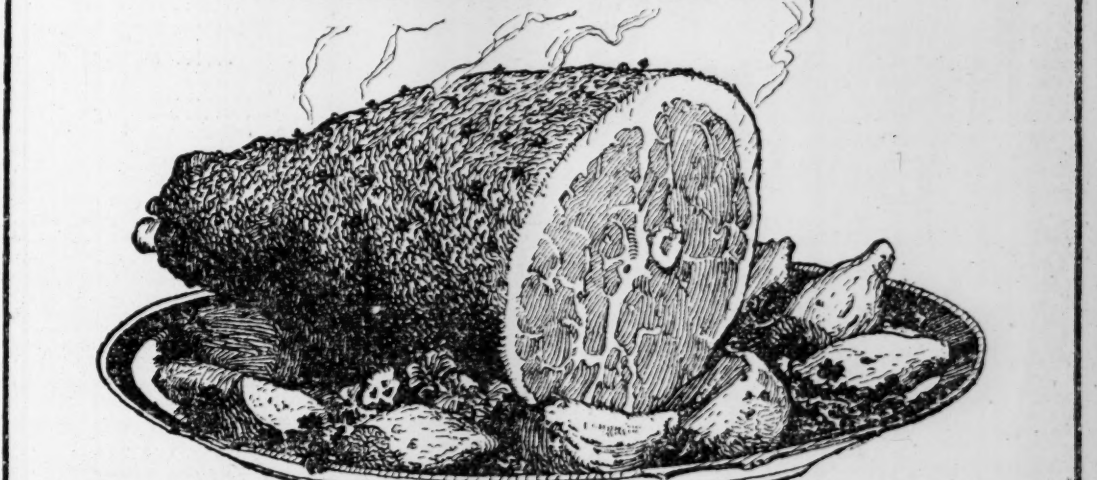

Comfort and Style	Durable Boys' Suits	With Two Pairs of Pants
Our usual bargains in hand-tailored, union made, men's clothes. Warm weather will be your last thought when you get in one of our splendidly tailored suits. They are sold on our usual liberal terms and are priced according to fabric from	Good-looking all-wool suits. Made with care for hard wear. Dress him up in a stylish 2-pants suit now. Full range of sizes.
$15.00 AND UP Liberal Terms	$11.50
Nobby Woolen Suits For summer wear. Some with 2 pants. Easy payments $25.00

Open 'till 9 p. m. Saturdays—Use Your Credit—Free Alterations

HOME ART SUPPLY CO.

"Clothing—House Furnishings"
172-174 Whitehall Street

MORRIS Supreme Ham and Bacon

When you taste it you'll understand

Do you know that ham is the most popular meat order in restaurants? Experienced travelers recognize its dependability; and enjoy its flavor. Supreme Ham is made to be supreme; to give you the highest quality, the greatest economy, and a flavor all its own. The mild Supreme sugar cure is the secret of that flavor.

You get the maximum in flavor and economy when you buy a whole Supreme Ham; or a Supreme Boiled Ham; or Supreme Bacon by the piece or sliced in cartons. All government inspected.

Ask your dealer for Supreme Ham and Bacon

News of Society and Woman's Work

Connecticut Wedding Is Of Wide Interest in Atlanta

A wedding of wide social interest to Atlantans which took place in the Second Congregational church, of Berlin, Conn., Thursday evening, was that of Miss Margaret Webster Wilcox, of Berlin, to J. Edgar Hummelt, Jr., of Atlanta.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel A. Ficke, of Berlin, the bride's pastor.

Lovely Setting.
The decorations of the church were entirely in green and white. Palms flanked the altar which was festooned with smilax and further adorned with white and pink floral and stately Easter lilies.

A program of selected music was rendered before the ceremony by Mrs. Herbert H. Darnon, of Berlin, and the bride's party entered the church, the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march.

The ushers and groomsmen were Earl Green and Dr. Ford Smith, of Atlanta; Howell Jackson, of New York, and William Hannan, of Detroit.

Bridalmaid's Gown.
The bride's cousin, Miss Kathryn Wilcox, of Middletown, Conn., was maid of honor, and was a charming figure in peach-colored gown. Her gown was fashioned with a bit of tulle, full skirt, and butterfly sleeves of lace. The bandeau worn in the hair, slippers and hose matched the gown. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas in pastel shades.

Miss Elizabeth Wilcox Ryan, of Brooklyn, cousin of the bride; Miss Frances Powell, of Atlanta; Miss Ruth Foss, of Brunswick, Me.; and Miss Miriam Prime, of Yonkers, N. Y., were the bridesmaids. With them in yellow and two in pale blue.

Miss Holbrook and Mr. Mitchell Wed at Pretty Home Ceremony

Centering wide interest was the marriage of Miss Vivian Holbrook, daughter of Mrs. O. H. Holbrook, of Buffalo, N. Y., which was solemnized Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother on East Ninth street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Veach, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church of Edgewood, and was witnessed by a large number of guests and a few intimate friends.

The entire lower floor was decorated with an artistic arrangement of palms, ferns and a profusion of richly tinted garden flowers. The altar of stately palms and tropical plants formed a beautiful background for tall white pedestals bristling with English daisies, the handles tied with white tulle bows.

Appropriate wedding music was rendered previous to the ceremony by Mrs. Cowan and Miss Farnsworth, of Kirkwood, Schubert's "Serenade" was played during the ceremony.

Charming Bride.
The lovely bride entered unattended wearing a three-piece suit of dark blue velvet tulle and a hat of gray and blue of extreme smartness. Her corsage bouquet was of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

The bride's mother, Mrs. O. H. Holbrook, wore black satin with touches of lace. Her corsage bouquet was of lavender sweet peas.

Mrs. H. B. Mitchell, of Buffalo, N. Y., the groom's mother, wore a gown of white georgette crepe and her flowers were lavender sweet peas.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The table in the dining room was elegantly laid with white lace and held in the center a beautiful wedding cake made in tiers and embellished in dainty floral design of white, being topped by a miniature bride and groom. English daisies in tall silver baskets, interspersed with silver compots filled with bonbons, completed the decorations.

Assisting in entertaining were four sisters of the bride, Misses Ruby, Sarah, Martha and Thelma Holbrook. These four charming young girls were crowned in dainty summer frocks.

College Set Back From Athens.
Among those returning Thursday from the University of Georgia commencement at Athens were Misses Irene Thomas, Mildred Frasier, Margaret Elder, Rebecca Ashcraft, Janet Bailey, Marian Smith, Rebecca Harmon, Marianna Goldsmith, Rosa Harbin, Eloise Allen, Rana Irwin, Lula Lewis, Mrs. Nora Northern, Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Mrs. Howell Irwin, Mrs. Stacy Earnest Hill, Mrs. Irene Williams, Mrs. Lee Duncan, John Grant, Jr., Rutherford Ellis, Donovan Owens, Walker Inman, Richard Hill, John S. Owens, Ruth Nunnally, George Connors, Sam Weyman, Earnest McCullough, Lloyd Eicklen, Hugh Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ragsdale, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Bussy, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hudson.

Among those dancing were: Misses Gertrude Gilbert, Dorothy Crockett, Lelia Ponder, Helen Bowen, Margaret Lewis, Estelle Goodman, Francis Fort, Charles Dupree, James Hodge, Charles Wynne, T. M. Wilson, M. A. Russell, P. R. Boniques, T. F. Bussey, E. O. Tompkins, B. Huson, Henry Knier.

Bridge-Luncheon Honors Visitors.
Miss Carolyn Essig entertained at a bridge-luncheon Thursday at her home on West Fifth street, the lovely affair complimenting Misses Frances Harper, of Montclair; Alice Harrold, of Americus; Eugenia Hahr, of Barnesville; Julia McClatchey, of Columbus, the charming guests of Miss Clayton Calloway; Mary Matheson, of Philadelphia, the guest of Clara Bell King, and Henrietta Mikell, who has just returned from school in Washington, D. C.

The honor guests were presented with dainty French novelty powder puffs, and the top score and consolation winners were presented hand made handkerchiefs.

Those invited to meet the honor guests were: Misses Clayton Calloway, Mary Armstrong, Vera Kasper, Clara Belle King, Mary McCarty, Mark O'Neil, Anna Lane Newell, Eleanor McGinty, Eloise Gaines, Anais Jones, Lucile Stone, Elizabeth Fall, Mary Clarke, Mary Jo Bailey, Mary Prim, and Lillian McFarlan.

Pretty Luncheon Compliments Two.
Miss Bettina Parker and Miss Emma Thomas O'Neil, of Charleston, S. C., the guests of Miss Anais Jones were complimented at an informal luncheon Thursday given by Miss Virginia Howard.

Those who helped toward the success of the picnic last year were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kilder, M. H. L. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Boykin, Mrs. Norman Pool, Mrs. A. J. Bruce, Mrs. M. F. Trenary, Mrs. W. G. Sands, Mrs. Daniel Boone, Mrs. W. A. Goodman, Mrs. R. M. Shaw, Mrs. T. J. Lechridge, Jr., Mrs. W. D. Marshall, Mrs. N. E. Martin, Mrs. M. B. Garwood, Miss Edith Pierce, Schlesinger and company, Silverman Bakery, Brower Candy company, F. O. Stone Baking company, City Salesmen's association, and others.

The boys' club picnic is an annual affair provided by the Y. M. C. A. Women's auxiliary.

LEATHER CASES FOR BRIDGE CARDS
A VARIETY OF COLORS
IDEAL FOR GIFTS
J. P. Stevens Engraving Co.
103 Peachtree Street
Atlanta, Georgia.

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES
(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
At Capital City Club Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday Nights; Piedmont Driving Club Saturday Nights; Brookhaven Country Club Sunday Afternoons.
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Brannon at Hemlock 0677.

DANCING
Do you dance? If not, would you like to learn? Beginners and others can become finished dancers in the Tango, Fox Trot, Waltz, Shuffle and other dances in a few private lessons. Open day and night. Phone 147 8864.
J. E. LANE, Instructor.
25,000 satisfied pupils. None better.
ROSELAND Peachtree St. at Cain.

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES
(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
At Capital City Club Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday Nights; Piedmont Driving Club Saturday Nights; Brookhaven Country Club Sunday Afternoons.
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Brannon at Hemlock 0677.

Miss Richardson to Wed Mr. Trimble This Month

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Black, of College Park, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mattie Louise Richardson, to Charles Ernest Trimble, the wedding to take place June 28, at 8:30 o'clock, at the College Park Baptist church.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Joseph A. Crumley.

Miss Richardson will be given in marriage by her brother, Walter Richardson.

The attendants will be: Matron of honor, Mrs. J. R. Banks, Jr.; Miss Grace Bramlett, the maid of honor, and Miss Lynda Lee Morgan, bridesmaid.

The flower girls will be Mary Manning, beautiful little daughter of Mrs. W. L. Manning, of East Point, and Nellie Wood, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood, of East Point.

Earl Richardson, brother of the bride, will be the best man, and the ushers will be Henry Blair and Harold Crook.

Many lovely social affairs have been planned in compliment to this lovely bride.

On Tuesday, June 26, Miss Grace Bramlett will entertain at a matinee party.

On June 22, Mrs. J. F. Anderson will give a miscellaneous shower for Miss Richardson.

On June 23, Miss Roberta Stallings will entertain at a linen shower.

On June 25, Miss Lynda Lee Morgan will give a miscellaneous shower at her home on Matheson place in honor of Miss Richardson.

Spiritual Healing To Be Subject.
The Atlanta Psychological society, of which Rose Mae Ashby is president, will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the mahogany room of the Ansley hotel. The subject will be "The Rational of Mental and Spiritual Healing."

How to heal oneself and how to stay well by using one's own natural endowments will be plainly interpreted. Both men and women who are interested are invited.

Bone Club Girls Make Contribution.
The home of Judge Shepard Bryan was recently a scene of a dramatic presentation of "The Rescue of The Princess Winsome." It was delightfully staged, well acted and a large group of people were in attendance.

This play was given by the members of the "Bone Club," and the receipts, $46, was sent in to the Anti-Tuberculosis association to provide milk for some little children under their care. This club from time to time has been greatly interested in this group of children and their interest continues to grow.

The club membership consists of Florence Bryan, Marion Bryan, Cornelia King, Jaqueline Moore, Elizabeth Hunter, Annie S. Harman, Catherine Stocking, Harriet Grant and Calendar Weithier.

Mid-Week Dance At East Lake Club.
The East Lake Country club has resumed its informal mid-week dinner dances, and that of Wednesday night was a delightful occasion.

The Ritz harmony orchestra rendered many popular selections during dinner and for the dancing which followed.

William Noyes and Miss Margaret Rodgers dined together.

Carlyle Hollerman's guest of honor was Miss Florence Boykin.

Others seen dining were: A. E. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ragsdale, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Bussy, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hudson.

Among those dancing were: Misses Gertrude Gilbert, Dorothy Crockett, Lelia Ponder, Helen Bowen, Margaret Lewis, Estelle Goodman, Francis Fort, Charles Dupree, James Hodge, Charles Wynne, T. M. Wilson, M. A. Russell, P. R. Boniques, T. F. Bussey, E. O. Tompkins, B. Huson, Henry Knier.

WHITE $12.50
Snow White Kid in the Wonderful Quality Found Here.

Hand Turn Soles

The French Shoppe
WEST ALABAMA

DANCING
Do you dance? If not, would you like to learn? Beginners and others can become finished dancers in the Tango, Fox Trot, Waltz, Shuffle and other dances in a few private lessons. Open day and night. Phone 147 8864.
J. E. LANE, Instructor.
25,000 satisfied pupils. None better.
ROSELAND Peachtree St. at Cain.

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES
(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
At Capital City Club Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday Nights; Piedmont Driving Club Saturday Nights; Brookhaven Country Club Sunday Afternoons.
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Brannon at Hemlock 0677.

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES
(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
At Capital City Club Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday Nights; Piedmont Driving Club Saturday Nights; Brookhaven Country Club Sunday Afternoons.
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Brannon at Hemlock 0677.

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES
(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
At Capital City Club Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday Nights; Piedmont Driving Club Saturday Nights; Brookhaven Country Club Sunday Afternoons.
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Brannon at Hemlock 0677.

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Attractive Gainesville Bride

Miss Mary Goetcheus, formerly of Atlanta, was married to Raymond Womeldorf, of Lexington, Va., Thursday evening, in Gainesville, Ga., at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ernest Campbell, 25 Boulevard. They will make their home in China.

Pretty Al Fresco Tea Compliments Summer Visitors

Miss Clara Belle King entertained at an al fresco tea at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. King, in Druid Hills, Thursday in compliment to seven attractive visitors, Miss Mary Matheson, of Philadelphia, and Miss Lucy Harris, of El Paso, Texas, the guest of Miss King; Miss Dorothy Hester, of Americus, the guest of Miss Lucy Little Funkhouser; Miss Nora Fortson, of Athens, the guest of Miss Elizabeth Phillips, and for Miss Clayton Callaway's guests, Misses Alice Harrold, of Americus; Julia Adelaide McClatchey, of Columbus; Frances Harper, of Montclair; and Eugenia Hahr, of Barnesville.

Tables and chairs were arranged on the side lawn of the beautiful King home. Punch was served in the rose-covered sun house from a table bedded in a mound of roses, daisies, cornflowers, snapdragons and smilax.

Assisting in receiving the guests of honor were Misses Mary Armstrong and Eleanor McGinty.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Clyde King, Mrs. George Woodruff, Mrs. Robert Woodruff, Mrs. Albert Pritchard and Miss Cole.

Matinee Party For Bride-Elect.
Miss Mattie Mangum, a bride-elect, was honored at a matinee party given at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Gibson.

Miss Mangum wore an afternoon gown of black lace and a large hat to match.

Mrs. Gibson was crowned in white cation crepe worn with a white hat.

The guests included Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. John Stuart, Miss Lottie Loftis, Miss Mae Taylor, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant Mangum, and Mrs. R. M. Pelot.

Mrs. Wilkinson To Be Hostess.
Mrs. Van Wilkinson will give a bridge-luncheon Friday at the Capital City club for Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who leaves next week to make her home in Baltimore. Sixteen guests will be entertained.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Miss J. J. Lawless Gives Pretty Tea For Miss Dickey

"Mijima," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Lawless on Piedmont road, was the scene of an elaborate tea given by Mrs. Lawless Thursday in compliment to Miss Katherine Dickey, a bride-elect of this month.

The reception rooms where the game was played were decorated with natural orange blossoms and valley lilies held in silver vases and bowls.

A Japanese telephone screen was presented the honor guest and the winners of the to procure and the consolation prizes were Japanese novelties.

Tea was served following the game.

Mrs. William J. Stoddard, mother of the hostess, assisted in entertaining. She wore an afternoon gown of net fashioned over flesh chiffon and girdled with burnt orange tulle.

Miss Lawless was crowned in a model of peach-colored chiffon trimmed with gold lace and French flowers.

Miss Dickey's gown was a Parisian model of yellow and white crepe worn with a picture hat of yellow.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook

The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Matinee Party For Bride-Elect.
Miss Mattie Mangum, a bride-elect, was honored at a matinee party given at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Gibson.

Miss Mangum wore an afternoon gown of black lace and a large hat to match.

Mrs. Gibson was crowned in white cation crepe worn with a white hat.

The guests included Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. John Stuart, Miss Lottie Loftis, Miss Mae Taylor, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant Mangum, and Mrs. R. M. Pelot.

Mrs. Wilkinson To Be Hostess.
Mrs. Van Wilkinson will give a bridge-luncheon Friday at the Capital City club for Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who leaves next week to make her home in Baltimore. Sixteen guests will be entertained.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Matinee Party For Bride-Elect.
Miss Mattie Mangum, a bride-elect, was honored at a matinee party given at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Gibson.

Miss Mangum wore an afternoon gown of black lace and a large hat to match.

Mrs. Gibson was crowned in white cation crepe worn with a white hat.

The guests included Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. John Stuart, Miss Lottie Loftis, Miss Mae Taylor, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant Mangum, and Mrs. R. M. Pelot.

Mrs. Wilkinson To Be Hostess.
Mrs. Van Wilkinson will give a bridge-luncheon Friday at the Capital City club for Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who leaves next week to make her home in Baltimore. Sixteen guests will be entertained.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Mrs. J. J. Lawless Gives Pretty Tea For Miss Dickey

"Mijima," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Lawless on Piedmont road, was the scene of an elaborate tea given by Mrs. Lawless Thursday in compliment to Miss Katherine Dickey, a bride-elect of this month.

The reception rooms where the game was played were decorated with natural orange blossoms and valley lilies held in silver vases and bowls.

A Japanese telephone screen was presented the honor guest and the winners of the to procure and the consolation prizes were Japanese novelties.

Tea was served following the game.

Mrs. William J. Stoddard, mother of the hostess, assisted in entertaining. She wore an afternoon gown of net fashioned over flesh chiffon and girdled with burnt orange tulle.

Miss Lawless was crowned in a model of peach-colored chiffon trimmed with gold lace and French flowers.

Miss Dickey's gown was a Parisian model of yellow and white crepe worn with a picture hat of yellow.

Society Will Give Silver Tea.
The Young People's Missionary society, of Park Street Methodist church, will give a silver tea this afternoon, June 22, from 4 to 6 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Cullison, 265 Gordon street.

The following will take part in the program: Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Douglas, Misses Frances Beelan, Frances Moore, Elizabeth Hyatt, Martha Crooke, Carolyn Hall, Mary Merritt, Lannar Lowe, Elizabeth Gaston, Mrs. R. M. Stripling.

"Missionary" salad, with "opportunity" dressing will be served the guests.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Matinee Party For Bride-Elect.
Miss Mattie Mangum, a bride-elect, was honored at a matinee party given at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Gibson.

Miss Mangum wore an afternoon gown of black lace and a large hat to match.

Mrs. Gibson was crowned in white cation crepe worn with a white hat.

The guests included Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. John Stuart, Miss Lottie Loftis, Miss Mae Taylor, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant Mangum, and Mrs. R. M. Pelot.

Mrs. Wilkinson To Be Hostess.
Mrs. Van Wilkinson will give a bridge-luncheon Friday at the Capital City club for Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who leaves next week to make her home in Baltimore. Sixteen guests will be entertained.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

As Miss Mattie Mae Price, Mrs. Holbrook has been one of the popular young women of Chattahoochee, Georgia, where the young couple will make their home.

Matinee Party For Bride-Elect.
Miss Mattie Mangum, a bride-elect, was honored at a matinee party given at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Gibson.

Miss Mangum wore an afternoon gown of black lace and a large hat to match.

Mrs. Gibson was crowned in white cation crepe worn with a white hat.

The guests included Mrs. Stewart Smith, Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mrs. John Stuart, Miss Lottie Loftis, Miss Mae Taylor, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant Mangum, and Mrs. R. M. Pelot.

Mrs. Wilkinson To Be Hostess.
Mrs. Van Wilkinson will give a bridge-luncheon Friday at the Capital City club for Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who leaves next week to make her home in Baltimore. Sixteen guests will be entertained.

Miss Price Weds Ellis Holbrook.
The marriage of Miss Mattie Mae Price and Ellis Holbrook was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Rev. Robert H. Lamkin on East Pine street.

Many friends of the young couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, with a white hat, flower trimmed.

Miss Agathen and Mr. Jeffords Wed at Home in Inman Park

One of the prettiest June weddings was that of Miss Willie Mae Agathen to Reul Charles Jeffords, which took place at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. H. Walker, in Inman park.

The Rev. Costen J. Harrell performed the impressive ring ceremony. The wedding music was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Miss Florence Baldwin sang "God Touched a Rose" and "Until." Descending the stairs, the bride party entered the living room and stood before an altar of palms which was placed before the mantel.

At either side of the altar stood white pedestals bristling with white gladioli. Other decorations throughout the house were garlands of smilax and summer flowers in pastel shades.

The Bridal Party.
To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party descended the stairs, preceded by the ribbon bearers, little Miss Mary Budden and Master Gordon Bradley, cousins of the bride, who crossed the living room, forming an aisle of white satin ribbon caught to the columns on either side of the staircase in the colonial hall.

Little Miss Budden was lovely in her white frock of organdy and Master Gordon Bradley was most attractive in his white suit.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Letitia Baldwin and Miss Mary Cordelia Sturdivant, of Chipley, Ga., who wore charming gowns of pastel shades. Miss Baldwin wearing an orchid georgette with girle studded in stones of amethyst, and Miss Sturdivant wearing a jade green georgette with trimmings of silver cloth. Both bridesmaids carried bouquets of sweet peas.

Offie Coody was best man and Lewis Fletcher groomsmen.

They were followed by the little ring bearer, Rose Oden Lockhart, of Greenville, Texas, who was dressed in white organdy with pink rose bud trimmings and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Preceding the bride were the small flower girls, Mildred Mills, sister of the groom, and Nellie Henderson. Their dainty frocks were of pink organdy and they carried baskets of sweet peas.

The Lovely Bride.
The charming young bride entered with the groom. She was never more lovely than in her wedding gown of white crepe with lace trimmings finished with a girle hand wrought by her grandmother. A wreath of orange blossoms held in place the soft tulle veil which fell in graceful folds to the end of the rich white satin train.

She carried a bouquet of bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table in the dining room was covered with an exquisite cloth and held in the center the bride's cake, which was adorned with sweet peas, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. Pink tapers burned in the holders. Assisting in entertaining were the aunts of the bride, Mrs. W. M. Walker and Mrs. Fred Mills, mother of the groom.

Mrs. W. M. Walker was crowned in a black beaded crepe dress. Her corsage bouquet was lavender sweet peas.

Mrs. John Robinson was crowned in blue crepe with rose trimmings. Her corsage bouquet was rose sweet peas.

Mrs. Fred Mills was handsomely crowned in black crepe and wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas.

The Wedding Journey.
During the reception Mr. and Mrs. Jeffords left on an automobile tour. After their return they will make their home on Highland view.

The bride is the only child of the late Henry Agathen, of Waycross, Ga., and the groom, who is a rising young business man, is held in high esteem by all who know him.

Moreland P. T. A. Will Meet

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Missionary association will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Edison hall.

The Friday Morning Reading club will meet this week with Mrs. Eugene Black.

Electa chapter, No. 6, O. E. S., will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall.

Georgia division, No. 537, L. A. to O. R. C. of A., meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A meeting of the executive board of the Atlanta Woman's club will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the club.

The American Citizenship committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will hold a meeting this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the club.

The Ira Street Baby Health center will meet at Ira Street school at 2 o'clock.

The Young People's Missionary society of Park Street church will give a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Hubert Culbertson, 265 Gordon street, at 6 o'clock.

Miss Mary Goetchius Marries Mr. Womeldorf on Thursday

The marriage of Miss Mary Goetchius and Raymond Womeldorf, of Lexington, Va., which took place in Gainesville, Ga., Thursday evening, is of wide-spread interest in Atlanta. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ernest Campbell, 25 Boulevard, and was performed by the bride's brother, the Rev. Ernest Campbell, and Dr. J. Spole Lyons, of Atlanta.

A string orchestra gave the very lovely music which preceded the ceremony and played the wedding marches.

The home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers and banks of green palms and graceful smilax vines. An improvised altar was made of vines and ferns and lighted with waxen tapers.

Mrs. Ernest Campbell, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a lovely gown of robin's egg paillette crepe with trimmings of vari-colored flowers and silver. She carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen Goetchius, also a sister of the bride, was groomed in cold paillette crepe with flower and silver trimmings and she also carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

The little flower girl was Elizabeth Anne Campbell, the bride's niece. She wore rose-colored gorette and carried a basket filled with garden flowers.

The groom was attended by Robert Richardson, of Memphis, Tenn., who was best man.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white duchess satin with trimmings of real lace. A coronet of duchess lace and orange blossoms held the veil in place.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, during which the bride and groom left on a wedding journey to North Carolina where they will remain until August, when they sail for China and will make their home in Nanking.

Mrs. Womeldorf is well known in Atlanta where she spent some time and was director of young people's

Children's Matinee Will Be Given Friday Morning

Exquisite scenery, a fascinating land of romance and adventure entirely wholesome in character, and a make-believe kingdom mark the film portrayal of the "Prisoner of Zenda," the feature picture to be shown at the Howard theater on Friday morning, June 22, to the patrons of the Better Films Boys' and Girls' matinee. This is a "book film," and wherever shown to young people has served the double purpose of entertainment and literary influences, the book by Anthony Hope, being closely followed in the making of this Metro picture. The length of this picture leaves time on the program only for a Pathe cartoon comedy, called the "Two Explorers," Saturday morning, at the Alpha, the boys and girls will see a Charlie Chaplin film put on by the Acme company, in which Charlie is "the Doughnut Designer." Leo Maloney, in a Pathe first-run, two-reel western drama, entitled "Hide and Zeke," will be a further comedy attraction, and the main feature film will be the twelfth episode of the Consolidated serial story, "The Oregon Trail," in which Art Acord is the hero of an important historical crises depicted under the title, "The Oregon Trail." Mrs. G. H. Guy, chairman of chaperons, announces that Mrs. Ellis Barrett, co-chairman, and Mrs. R. E. L. Tolbert will be in charge at the Alpha, and Mrs. Percy Blackshear and Mrs. Howard C. Morris will assist in chaperoning at the Howard.

Luncheon for Charming Visitor.

Miss Lillian Webster, of Madison, N. C., the guest of Mrs. Charles P. Ingram, was the honor guest at a pretty bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Ingram Thursday at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

An attractive arrangement of summer flowers in varying shades formed the decorations in the living-rooms.

In the dining room the luncheon table was overlaid with a cloth of file and embroidery and held in the center a large silver basket of yellow roses. Surrounding the central decoration were silver candelabra holding yellow unsheathed tapers, and cornucopias of yellow mints. The guests' places were marked with miniature yellow crepe baskets, trimmed with tiny butterflies, and filled with salted nuts.

Mrs. Ingram received her guests wearing a gown of tan georgette heavily beaded.

Miss Webster was groomed in a frock of blue chiffon.

Miss Willie T. Wing is honored.

Miss Mary Andrews entertained at a matinee party at the Forsyth theater Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Willie T. Wing, a bride-elect of Decatur. The guests included Miss Cloy Pierce, Miss Peggy Courser, Miss Dorothy Dukehart, Miss Margaret Allen, Mrs. Paul Crutchfield, Mrs. J. K. Dobbs and Mrs. Earl T. Cochran.

Not Looking for Trouble.

(From The New York Tribune.)

This is a nation composed, theoretically, of common people... but just ask any particular individual if he is common...

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

A reception will be given at the Piedmont Driving club, incident to the opening of the swimming pool.

Mrs. Monte Hirsch will entertain at a bridge-ten in honor of Miss Sylvia Montag.

Sidney C. Wing will entertain at dinner in honor of Miss Willie Tee Wing, a bride-elect.

Miss Mae Taylor will give a luncheon at her home on Highland avenue in compliment to Miss Mattie Mangum.

Miss Mary Armstrong will give a bridge-ten at her home in compliment to Miss Clayton Callaway's guest.

Mrs. R. E. Stanford will compliment Miss Ruth Fischer at a reception-ten at her home on Linwood place.

Mrs. J. A. Fischer will entertain the members of the Fischer-Lovell bridal party at a buffet supper this evening.

Mrs. T. J. Kelly will entertain at a bridge-luncheon in compliment to her guest, Miss Margaret Bates, of Greenwood, Miss.

The ushers and groomsmen will entertain the Montag-Ferst wedding party with a theater party and dance this evening.

Miss Rosa Roy will give a bridge-ten this afternoon at her home on Rosedale road in honor of Miss Mary Elizabeth Watkins, who has returned from Ward-Belmont college.

Mrs. Laurence McKinley will give a miscellaneous shower at her home on Northwood avenue in honor of Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown, who will be married to Thomas Talmage Lively June 28.

Miss Sara Baker will entertain at a dinner party this evening in compliment to Miss Mabel Baker and Richard Little, bride and groom-elect.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Dr. and Mrs. Mack Rogers left yesterday for Columbia, S. C., where they will in future make their home.

Mrs. J. E. C. Pedder and daughter, Miss Mary Anne Pedder will leave Thursday morning, June 21, for their summer home at Lakemont, Ga., where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Pedder who has been ill in the hospital for the past two months is now improving and hopes to join his family at Lakemont in the near future.

Mrs. William J. Harris, the wife of United States Senator William Harris, and her daughter, Miss Julia Wheeler Harris, arrived in Atlanta Thursday to visit Mrs. Sally Eugenia Brown at her home on Peachtree street. They will be joined here by Senator Harris June 26.

Miss Annie Ruth Moore will leave Sunday to attend the biennial convention of the Phi Mu Sorority at Los Angeles, California. Before returning home she will visit relatives in California.

Miss Mildred Rice and Miss Jane Rice, of Baltimore, S. C., are the guests of their cousins, Mrs. L. B. Faulkner and Miss Anne Faulkner at 31 Porter place.

Miss Louise Cammer, after having received an M. A. degree at Columbia university, will arrive July 1 to spend the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. McAlilly.

Mrs. W. J. Morrison returned from Asheville Wednesday evening after having attended the convention of the National Federation of Music clubs.

Miss Lyman M. Chase, of Chicago, has returned to her home after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Frances Brown Chase, on the Brown's Mill road.

Mrs. Harry Badger is in Atlantic City where she has joined her daughter, Miss Kathleen Rosemary Badger, who graduated from school, June 12. They will return to Atlanta about the middle of July.

Captain and Mrs. Warren Davis, of Fort Bragg, North Carolina, are guests of Mrs. Davis' sister, Mrs. Sue McNeill Call, at her home 573 West Peachtree street.

Miss Louise Boyd returned to her home in Gainesville Wednesday after a visit to Miss Adelaide Howell.

E. M. Price and his niece, Miss Ida Harris, will leave Saturday for an extended visit to California.

Mrs. William Hunter and her brother, George A. Speer, of Buffalo, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Speer at their home on Peachtree circle.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Thrower are spending this week at Tybee.

Mrs. George W. Andrews, Mrs. C. A. Rauschenberg, Sr., Robert Andrews, Charles Rauschenberg, of Chicago, Ill., have returned from a trip to St. Simons Island, where they were the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rauschenberg, Jr., who are spending the month of June in their cottage there.

Miss Margaret Barker is visiting Mrs. Charles G. Davidson in Anniston, Ala.

Miss Margaret Middleton has returned from Lexington, Virginia, where she was one of the visiting helms at the V. M. I. commencement. She also attended commencement at the University of Georgia.

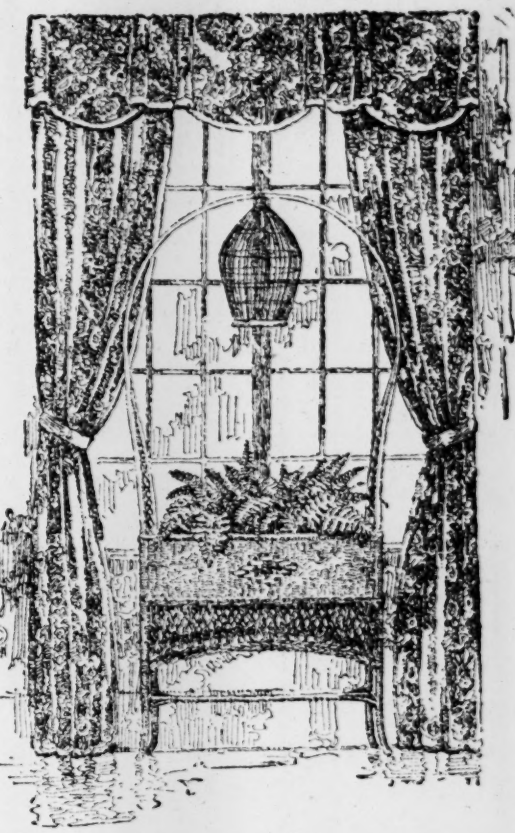

Little Miss Eleanor Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Gray, underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Mrs. Jas. M. Wilson and children, of Fort Worth, Texas, are the guests of Mrs. Charles A. Beckman, of Durant place. A number of interesting affairs have been planned for Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warner and their little daughter, Ruth, left Thursday for Charleston, S. C., from where they will sail on the Arapahoe for New York and Atlantic City.

Mrs. Addie T. Williamson, of Gainesville, Ga., arrives Friday to be

Make the Home More Beautiful

With Appropriate Draperies

Home, where we spend so much of our time, where we like to have our friends, and where, in a great many instances, we'd rather be than any other place in the world—this is the place we should take special pride in "fixing up" with beautiful, becoming and restful draperies—and nothing helps more to make the home the place we like it to be than these.

Here, in our Drapery Department, you will find a very large and complete assortment of charming designs and colors in the different weaves and fabrics from which you may select "just exactly the pattern" that happens to suit your fancy. And, too, our decorators will be glad to offer you the benefit of their long experience in solving the drapery problems of the home.

As an Incentive to Buy—We Offer

$1.00 and $1.25 Cretonnes at . . . 89c yd.
45c and 65c Cretonnes at . . . 35c yd.
50c Filet Net at . . . 39c yd.
Especially Fine and Durable Marquisette in Cream and Ecru at . . . 50c yd.
Cross-Bar Marquisette, White and Ecru . . . 29c yd.
Ruffled Marquisette Curtains, pair . . $1.69

Vudor Porch Comfort

At a moderate expenditure you can so equip your porch with Vudor Porch Shades as to make it into a large, healthful, airy, cheerful living room, where you can live midst the most delightful surroundings, can take your meals and can have, without extra expense, an ideal out-of-door fresh air sleeping room, where the whole family can sleep in comfort even in the hottest weather.

The Only Shade Made With A Ventilator

SELF-HANGING
Vudor
VENTILATING
PORCH SHADES

4 ft. 5 ft. 6 ft. 7 ft. 8 ft. 9 ft. 10 ft. 12 ft.
$4.50 $5.75 $6.75 $8.50 $9.00 $10.75 $11.75 $14.25

50c extra for hanging

Drapery Department—Third Floor

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.
86-96 Whitehall St.

BLOOM'S HALF-PRICE DRESS SALE

Miss Rose Bloom, our buyer, has just returned from the Eastern markets, and with her came some of the smartest and most lovely women's dresses that New York has shown this season. Her knowledge of quality merchandise and her shrewdness in buying allows us to offer the most amazing values we have had the pleasure to offer our customers in a long time.

These Dresses are absolutely the last word in style and the combinations of coloring and trimmings are amazing. It will be a treat for you to see them, and to convince yourself of the sincerity of this statement you must pay us a personal visit.

Due to the lateness of the season the manufacturers sold us these dresses at half price, and we are giving you the benefit of savings caused by this fortunate purchase.

When you consider the quality of the merchandise and the selling price—well, you will wonder how we do it.

Again we say, come in early and get choice of these dresses at

Half Price

They are suitable for morning, street, afternoon, church, theater and evening wear.

Also many beautiful Skirts, Sweaters
Summer Capes and Summer Furs

500 Platinum Fur Chokers
One to a Customer

Wonderful Values, $7.95
While they Last

Bloom's Smart Shop
28 Whitehall St.

HOW DRY I AM!

Make your own cooling drinks at home, and sip them on your own porch. Our Washington bureau has collected more than a score of recipes for the choicest, most refreshing, and most delectable of beverages. They slake your thirst and tickle your palate. They cheer, but do not inebriate. If you are interested, fill out coupon below:

Washington Bureau, The Atlanta Constitution,
1322 N. Y. Ave., Washington, D. C.

I want a list of your recipes for HOME-MADE COOLING DRINKS, and enclose two cents in stamps for postage.

Name

Street and No.

City

State

Mrs. John E. Murphy Gives First "Mah-Jongg" Party

An interesting event on Thursday's social calendar was the "Mah-Jongg" party given by Mrs. John E. Murphy at her handsome home on Peachtree road.

This was quite a unique affair, inasmuch as Mrs. Murphy is the first hostess in Atlanta to invite her friends to assemble to play this Chinese game.

Tall baskets of pink gladioli were used in the decoration of the spacious reception rooms where the game was played. The hand-painted score cards were of Japanese design.

Tea was served from a table rich in the appointments of lace and silver. The central decoration was a silver basket holding pink roses. Silver comports held bonbons and white mints ornamented in sprays of pink flowers.

The first prizes, bottles of Coty's perfume, were won by Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, Mrs. Topliff Davis, Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson and Mrs. L. R. Pearce. The second prizes, novelty pencils, were awarded to Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Pearce, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson and Mrs. Edwin H. Inman.

Mrs. Murphy was attractively gowned in white canton crepe, dotted in blue. The guests included Mrs. W. W. Banks, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Frederick Pearce, Mrs. Archibald Davis, Mrs. Topliff Davis, Mrs. L. R. Pearce, Mrs. Edward Inman, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., Mrs. D. Rhodes, Mrs. Robert Adler Saythe, Mrs. Robert C. Alston, Mrs. Weidenfeld and Mrs. Edwin F. Johnson.

BOY DISAPPEARS NEAR TUGALO DAM

Tugalo, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—William Officer, 12-year-old son of an employee of the Georgia Railway and Power company, at Tugalo dam, disappeared yesterday about 2 o'clock and no trace of him can be found.

The river has been dragged and searching parties were out all last night.

The supposition is that he was drowned while trying to swim across the river.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Charming But Sometimes Inconvenient Are the New Flowing Sleeves.

Flowing, drooping, dripping, billowing sleeves are charming and smart—but say what you will they do get in one's tea cup now and then and one grows very tired of having a vigilant husband or friend or grown daughter or mother-in-law always breaking into one's best conversation with:

"Pardon me, dear, but your sleeve—no, it didn't get in your tea cup, but I thought it was going to."

Or: "Let me pass the sugar—you'll never be able to get it with those sleeves. They are very smart, of course."

Or: "There you go. I knew you would. Why on earth women have was so long that it would have trailed on the ground when the wearer walked had it not been the fashion to tie it in a knot by way of taking the necessary reef.

Washable blouses have for the most part been made with the very short sleeve this season. There are disadvantages in this fashion for the woman with not very attractive arms, but decided advantages when it comes to buying blouses ready made. Usually one of the earmarks of the mass-order blouse consists in perfectly lengthened sleeves—and one of the earmarks of the blouse bought on the spur of the moment and worn without alteration is that the sleeves are usually too short or too long. You will find that the woman with very long or very short arms usually favors the short sleeve.

Here and there among the washable blouses are long sleeves. They will probably become more and more favored by discriminating women as the season advances.

The sketch shows you one such—made of fine linen trimmed with hemstitching and tied at the side with a bow of the linen.

(Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

to wear sleeves like that—especially at tea time."

Seemingly one has to take one's choice between very abbreviated sleeves, sleeves so abbreviated that they do not exist at all, or sleeves that trail and drag and need constant attention.

The long flowing sleeves that women wore in the twelfth century looked even more fantastic than our own, but as a matter of fact they did not interfere with one's hands so much as many of the sleeves of today, for they were made with slits through which the hands could protrude, and the length of the sleeve could be pushed back out of one's way. Sometimes the end of the sleeve

When Hearts Command

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

Continued from Yesterday.

"Well, I've thought of something of something wonderful. Couldn't we go on a picnic to Castel d'Appio?"

"Good heavens!"

They exclaimed in one breath. Only Hugo could have thought of anything so mad to do in mid-summer.

"Wait a minute. I know it's hot, but it would be nice and cool up there, and Jean could ride. I propose that we go after sundown and camp out all night, and get up for the sunrise. We could sleep all day—or you two can sleep while Tito and I keep guard—and come back after sunset tomorrow. Now what do you say to that? It would be a real adventure, with the ruins of a real castle. O, please let's go."

Gaunt and Jean looked at each other. The way Hugo put it, the excursion seemed rather attractive. Castel d'Appio wasn't high, but it was a delightful spot with a glorious view of snow mountains on one side and the sea on the other. One could be sure of a breeze, and the fir-grown plateau and old ruins afforded ample shade during the day and a wide choice of camping sites. There were caves, if a storm should come up. Of think it's a jolly idea," said

Gaunt. "How do you think of these things?"

Hugo jabbed at his eyeglasses and beamed modestly.

"They just come to me," he said. "Or, rather, it was Guido who put it into my head. He said he wondered we didn't go into the mountains and camp out, and I thought of once of Castel d'Appio. I went there years ago once with Jean and Mice. Douste. It was a lovely trip. Maddelina put up such a wonderful lunch, we were all so stuffed we could hardly get down again. Shall I tell Maddelina? She'll want to know about the food. There are some canvas hammocks in the attic, but I don't mind sleeping on the ground. Will you see about a mule to carry our kit, Hector? And another for Jean, of course. She hates climbing. Wear something sensible, Jean. Do you think we could manage to heat water in the old Roman bath? That would be great fun. May I take my gun? Or had I better leave it with Guido to protect the villa while we're away?"

"I'll leave it with Guido by all means," said Gaunt, answering the last of his string of questions. "You'd like to come, wouldn't you, Jean?"

"O, she must come," piped Hugo. "It wouldn't be any fun without her, and we couldn't leave her behind. The robber barons would take advantage of our being away. Don't say yes, come, Jean. Otherwise it is all off."

"Of course, I'll come," she agreed hastily.

It was too utterly worn out to care much about going, but the prospect of Hugo's disappointment could not be borne. He would have made their lives a misery had the picnic been refused. After all, why not? It would be a pleasant excursion and an easy one. A hammock makes a comfortable bed, if one isn't too much the slave of luxury. Gaunt, who was used to roughing it, professed his perfect willingness to cook for them and make camp, and there would be his boy Carlo for the fetching of water and washing up.

"At night we'll light a fire," said Hugo, "and tell ghost stories. O, do let's begin to get ready!"

Jean began her preparations by going to her room and lying down. It was too distressing the way she was going to be leaving her room by fatigue, after which she would have to go to the picnic.

"Yet I do nothing—nothing at all," she told herself, in bewildered disgust. Poor little soul, perhaps it did not occur to her that fatigue of the brain reacts on the strongest bodies, and hers was rather frail. Always there gnawed at her the ache of separation from Alice, the separation that was more than that of mere distance. She had to console herself with the belief that Alice was happy, and nothing else mattered. And besides the misery of being alienated from her beloved child was the constant worry of Hugo. He had worn down her resistance to a point where it scarcely seemed to exist. She was ashamed of her feebleness, yet helpless to remedy it. Every day took a little more out of her, until she wondered that there was anything left to surrender. Even the prospect of the climb up to Castel d'Appio on the back of a mule would scarcely bear thinking about.

Yet in the end she crawled around and made her preparations, packed

BEAUTY CHATS

CLEANSING CREAMS

Don't over use cold creams at any time, but in the hot weather be particularly careful about them. Heavy creams will make the skin too oily; in the summer they are apt to irritate it. In fact, unless you are treating deep wrinkles, I'd advise no cream but cleansing cream for hot weather use.

The formula is as follows:

White wax 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White mineral oil 5 ounces
Rose water 1 1/2 ounces
Borax 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds 15 drops

I make that last bitter almonds because I love its pungency, but any perfumed oil to the same amount will do.

Use this cream for cleansing; use it after exposure to the sun, it's as good as any other cream as a first aid after burning. Use it before going out with a liberal coating of powder, if your skin isn't too oily, it will prevent tanning. Use it on shoulders and arms, and especially on elbows which will grow grimy and ugly in the summer time. And if you want it cool and bleaching, use one and a half ounces of thin cucumber juice instead of rose water.

Heavy creams fill up the pores too much, which is their great fault in the hot weather. This cleansing cream is light, it rubs in easily, takes out the dust as you want it to do, and wipes off easily. Complexions are usually oily enough in the hot days and need nothing of that nature added. Indeed, one can almost dispense entirely with cold cream in the summer. It's useful mostly as a guard against tanning and after exposure to dust.

M. M. W.—For blackheads, cleanse the skin every night with hot water and a mild soap or a cleansing cream, after which use a fine cream to soften the balance of the soil in the pores. Remove the surplus and close the pores by dashing cold water over the face and throat, or by taking an ice rub. After the skin gets into the condition I can describe, it takes a long time to fully recover. A daily hot scrub over the whole body will a small canvas bag with a few necessities, and put on a knitted skirt and jumper. Clementine, predicting dire calamities, helped her. She would catch cold, said Clementine, to whom the thought of night air was a horror; and there was bound to be a thunder storm. Besides, everybody knew that Castel d'Appio was haunted. Strange little green men came out at night and frolicked all over the ruins and tempted mortals to follow them. "I hope you haven't mentioned that story to the signor," Jean said severely.

Continued Tomorrow.

Mary J.—The foods that give you the most nourishment, for the outlay of energy in assimilating them, are all the dairy products, giving precedence always to milk.

Tomorrow—To Young Mothers.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

OVERWORKED MOTHERS

We all know them. Mothers who in their anxiety to keep their homes neat and attractive and their little ones as well dressed as their playmates, toil on day in and day out, sweeping, dusting, mending and cooking, often suffering from backache, pain in side, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, all symptoms of more serious ailments. Thousands of such women have found relief from such suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually being published in this paper. For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health and strength.—(adv.)

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR THOMAS M. BOND

Jackson, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Thomas M. Bond, well known Jackson traveling salesman, who died at his home here Wednesday afternoon, will be held Friday afternoon. Arrangements have been delayed pending the arrival of relatives from Pennsylvania. Mr. Bond expired suddenly, death having been attributed to heart trouble.

He was a native of Butts county and was 37 years of age. He was prominent in secret orders, being a Mason and Shriner and member of the Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. D. Bond; five brothers, W. C. and O. J. Bond, of Jackson; C. C. Bond, of Atlanta; L. B. W. and Harvey Bond, of Carnegie, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. G. W. Jinks and Mrs. B. W. O'Neal, Jr.

E are proving to women every day that it is quite possible to obtain assured fashions of the most original character at reasonable prices.

Frohsin's

Correct Dress for Women

40 WHITE LANE

NOTHING could be quite so cooling—quite so refreshing—as a frosty glass of Tetley's Orange Pekoe—iced. You'll like its flavor and its fragrance.

TETLEY'S

Makes good TEA a certainty

SIGNOR E. VOLPI
GRAND OPERA STUDIO
Voice Culture, Repertoire and Opera Coaching
Special Attention Given to Beginners.
423-424 Wesley Memorial Building Phone Ivy 3797

Shown in Window 1

Dresses
At $9.95

Priced in Regular Stock

Up to $25

An assortment of dresses marked at an extraordinary price for quick clearance.

Taffetas, Wool Jerseys, Jasperettes, Crepes de Chine and prints.

Broken sizes, of course, but remarkable bargains for those who can be fitted, in the lot.

Second Floor

Watch Our Windows!

FOR TODAY

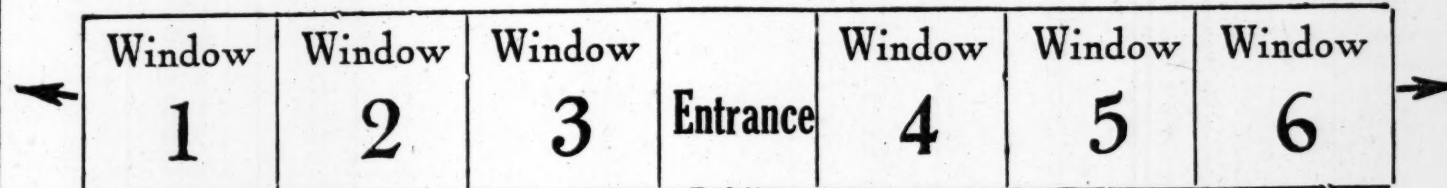

Offering Extraordinary Values.

IN OUR

CLEARANCE SALE

of READY-TO-WEAR

In Misses' and Regular Sizes

Shown in Window 2

Wraps
At Half Price

A few of the very handsome exclusive models—some of the most beautiful of the season's styles.

$110.00 models, at $55.00

$125.00 models, at 62.50

$148.50 models at 74.25

Second Floor

Shown in Window 3

Chokers
At 1/4 Less
Than Regular Prices

Beautiful pelts in summer furs, of Baum Marten, Stone Marten and Blue Wolf.

$35.00 Furs at $26.23

$45.00 Furs at 33.75

$55.00 Furs at 41.25

Handsome pieces are also reduced in proportion.

Second Floor

Shown in Window 4

Dresses
For Juniors
7 to 14
$6.95

For Dresses Priced Regularly

$8.95 to $10.95

Pongee Silks, hand-embroidered, appliqued and trimmed in contrasting silks.

Fancy crepes in varied colorings. Taffetas in plain and changeable.

Juvenile Section—Second Floor

Shown in Window 5

Misses' Dresses
Sizes 15 to 17
$14.95

From Regular Stock at

$24.95 or More

Plain and printed crepes in simple or more dressy models. Taffetas, self-trimmed or with bright colors.

Dark shades and bright colors.

Capes of Poiret Twill and Silks.

Juvenile Section—Second Floor

Chamberlain-Johnson-DuBose Co.

Her Friend's Husband

BY INEZ KLUMPH

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.
Gloria Chase comes home from boarding school for the wedding of her cousin, Virginia Scholter, to a man whom Gloria does not know. As she dresses for the ceremony Gloria recalls the night a year before when her own short-lived romance began. A great at a summer camp, she heard that the old and somewhat grumpy old man, who had been a school teacher, had died of a heart attack and that nobody on the island was allowed to help him with a heart. Immediately she went to his aid herself, and while she was digging the grave a man whom she had never seen before came to her assistance. Love at first sight was the result of their meeting.

CHAPTER V.

A Heart-Beating Moment.

Gloria rose early the next morning eager to run downstairs and see if her friend of the night before would be there. The breakfast room was empty; so was the living room, and in the garden there was only the man who tended them, busy with his host. Well, she would see him later, she thought, glowing with happiness; she could think him then more fully than when she had stumbled out those few words at the edge of the woods. He must be staying at the house, of course—there was nowhere else on the island where he could stay!

"We leave at 11, don't we?" Virginia asked their hostess at breakfast. "Then we'll be on the mainland for lunch and get a train at two for New York—isn't that it?" Virginia always drew languidly, but she always knew exactly what she was drawing about!

"Yes; the boat will be waiting for you at eleven. If you're in town long enough for some shopping, I wish you'd send me some home, my dear—cocoa-colored ones."

Virginia interrupted with a pretty upraised hand. "I'd love to do it better than anything else in the world," she exclaimed sweetly, "but our time in town is to be short, and I'm leaving at once for Crossways, you know. Of course, if it were possible, I'd love to shop for you!"

Her too-sweet tone annoyed Gloria, who never could quite understand why Jimmy wouldn't do anything for any one, no matter how little difficulty it would be. And they were to have two days in New York, she knew. Eagerly she broke in.

"I could get them for you, Mrs. Powers," she offered. "If you'll tell me the size and the color you want I'd be glad to do it."

Gloria's packing was done and she was dressed to go. She was free to stroll downstairs and see if her friend of the night before would be there. She was free to stroll downstairs and see if her friend of the night before would be there.

Crockett Arsenic-Lithia Springs and Baths
Opens June 1st. Elevation 2,150 feet. Very beneficial for nervous prostration, malaria, kidney diseases, rheumatic and skin troubles. Clears and improves the complexion. Write for booklet. M. C. Thomas, Crockett Springs, Va.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
Hotel Dennis.
The ideal American plan hotel directly on the ocean front. CAPACITY 600. BRICK GARAGE. Walter J. Dennis

CLIFF HOUSE
Tallahassee, Georgia
OPEN FOR THE SEASON
Health and Pleasure Resort. Mountain Climbing, Boating, Fishing and Music, Dancing. First-class Tennis Court. Milk and Vegetables from my own dairy and garden. For terms and reservations write or wire J. E. HARVEY Proprietor Cliff House

Big Float Bearing Pipe to Represent Order of Smokers

A large float bearing the legend "Tolerance-Peace" and surmounted by a huge pipe will be built to represent the National Order of Pipe-smokers in the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Atlanta, the grand lodge decided in session Wednesday at the chamber of commerce. Pipe-smokers of subordinate lodges will be invited to Atlanta to take an active part in the celebration.

President Harding, who is a life member, will be asked to attend to address the order, which claims "that when all mankind smoke the pipe, then will all mankind be brothers."

Dr. Horace Grant, national president, states that prominent men are organizing lodges in Macon, Savannah, Columbus, New Orleans, Boston and Baltimore. On July 4 a new secretary will be appointed to take the place of F. E. Radensleben, whose term expires on that date.

Tuskegee Hospital Entirely Manned By Negro Personnel

Washington, June 21.—Director Frank T. Hines, of the veterans' bureau, hopes in the very near future to be able to advise President Harding that the bureau hospital at Tuskegee, Ala., "has been completely manned by colored personnel," he informed President Harding in a letter made public at the white house today.

Already a complete corps of negro nurses has been obtained. Director Hines added. Most of these have arrived at the hospital, and the medical division of the bureau is now examining the papers of doctors recommended for positions there. It was added that those who will be put in responsible positions are now being interviewed.

Director Hines' letter to the president of obtaining colored personnel for the hospital at Tuskegee, I feel sure that you will be glad to learn that through the efforts of the professional medical associations and the civil service commission, we have been able to obtain practically sufficient colored personnel to man Tuskegee. At the present time a complete corps of colored nurses has been obtained most of them having arrived at the hospital.

The medical division of this office is going over carefully the papers of doctors recommended for positions there, and we are interviewing those that will be put in responsible positions, so I hope in the very near future to be able to advise you that the hospital has been completely manned by colored personnel.

"We have necessarily had to progress slowly in the matter because I have always felt that it was your desire that we, under no circumstances, put colored personnel on duty there who did not have the professional attainments to thoroughly handle the work, feeling that the colored people desire, as we do, that the best colored veterans receive treatment equal to that of any of our comrades."

"I am giving you this information today because I have a feeling that a certain element, prompted by a desire to obtain positions for certain individuals that are not entirely qualified, are attempting to belittle the issue by the publication of statements that it is not the intention of the bureau to man the hospital by a complete colored personnel, and I desire to reassure you that your wishes in this regard will be carried out exactly."

KILLING CLAIMED IN SELF-DEFENSE; SERGEANT FREED

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 21.—Police Sergeant H. L. Stubbs, who last night shot and killed Charles A. Matthews, a former detective on the local police force, was today exonerated by the coroner's jury, which held that the killing was an act of self-defense. Stubbs was released from custody.

BANKS ARE SATISFIED, NEW EXPLOSIVE WITHOUT FLASH

Inasmuch as the supreme court held that the federal reserve bank cannot be established "without force," bankers who waged the court fight against the rule are satisfied with the decree, according to a letter to The Constitution from Alexander W. Smith, of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the National and State Bankers Protective association.

The communication follows the recent public statement of Hollis Randolph, president of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta, who, in a recent analysis of the United States supreme court decision on the case, interpreted the decision as a victory for par clearance.

Let Future Decide.
"Let the future decide whether or not par clearance is upheld," Attorney Smith wrote. His letter follows: "The constitutionality of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta, established on July 18, 1913, reached me yesterday disclosing that our friend Hollis Randolph has again gone into the public prints seeking to establish the proposition stated in the headline that 'Par Clearance Plan is Upheld.' It is not my custom to try in the public press lawsuits committed to my care. Generally I attempt to analyze a court decision in a prosaic deliverance and the public at large is very apt to be bored by it."

The present situation of the par clearance campaign reminds me of a story I once heard in which a good-natured Irishman was imparting a piece of news to a companion, substantially in the following conversation:

"Well, Patrick is dead."
"What did he die of?"
"He died of a Thursday."

"No complaint, ever satisfied,"
"Par clearance received a mortal wound 'on a Thursday' (not 'on a Monday') by the decision of the supreme court of May 19, 1921. It died of this wound on Monday, June 19, 1921. According to my friend Randolph, there is no complaint and everybody ought to be satisfied."

I note that not being of counsel in the North Carolina case, he is unable to form a definite opinion as to what was or was not decided therein. Since both of these decisions were delivered simultaneously, and both are equally accessible, I see no difficulty in understanding what the court decided in both. The most casual reading would disclose that in the North Carolina case the federal reserve board were authorized to advance that the reserve carried no mandate to reserve banks to establish universal par clearance; that the previous executive methods of collection investigated and encouraged by the federal reserve board had compelled the state of North Carolina to enact a law to safeguard and protect its own banking institutions against this aggressive campaign; and that this law of North Carolina was valid and constitutional and served the purpose for which it was intended.

The Atlanta Case.
In the Atlanta case, the supreme court had already condemned in measured and unambiguous terms the alleged effort of the Atlanta bank to force par clearance upon the non-member banks in the sixth district. It was to be noted that the official of the Atlanta bank disclaimed under any purpose or intention to force par clearance upon the non-member banks, notwithstanding the formal resolutions of the directors, followed in this case by the Georgia bank. It was to be noted that the Georgia bank, in its effort to force par clearance in the sixth district, had been "collected" consistently with the legal rights of the drawee without having exchanged with the bank more than a "collected" note, and that the language of the supreme court in the preceding paragraph, as follows:

"Wherever collection can be made by the federal reserve bank, without exchange of cash, neither the common law, nor the federal reserve act precludes their doing so; if it can be done consistently with the rights of the country banks already existing in this case, 236 U. S. 514."

This quotation refers to the first decision by the supreme court on May 16, 1921.

Let the future decide whether or not par clearance is upheld. It is certain that the federal reserve board, in its effort to force par clearance in the sixth district, will not be able to do so, and that the courts will enjoin it under the first decision of the supreme court. In the meantime, I am justified in repeating as a result of the supreme court's interpretation of the decision, that there is "no complaint; everybody satisfied."

ALEXANDER W. SMITH,
General Counsel, National and State Bankers Protective Association.
Washington, D. C., June 20, 1921.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR SOUTH'S CRACK CAVALRY GUARDS

Recruits are wanted for Company C, 10th Cavalry, more familiarly known as the governor's horse guards. First Lieutenant Theodore Goulbsy announced Thursday. The governor's horse guards is one of the most famous crack cavalry companies of the south, and the officers wish to recruit it to its full strength of sixty men before the annual encampment at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., from July 15 to July 29.

Preparations are already under way for going to camp, and about ten men who desire cavalry training in a company noted for its excellent horsemanship are wanted to fill the company to its full quota within the next week. All expenses will be paid at the annual encampment, including transportation to and from Anniston, and in addition $15 will be given each trooper who goes to camp.

Of the governor's horse guards who have attended former encampments of the troop, declare that the two weeks spent is an ideal vacation. Mornings are devoted to mounted cavalry drill and afternoon in playing polo, swimming and baseball. Polo, which was introduced into Atlanta by the governor's horse guards, is the favorite sport at camp, and the company's polo team is one of the best in the south.

All young men wishing to join the company are requested by Lieutenant Goulbsy to see him in the savings department of the central office of the Citizens and Southern bank, Candler building.

"OLDEST BURGLAR" HALED INTO COURT

Chicago, June 21.—Chicago police brought their "oldest burglar" into court Thursday.

This was John Dunn, 73 years old, who has a record of penitentiary sentences dating back to 1884. John had been at it again.

The court held him to the grand jury under bond of $5,000.

We are now open; tip top Blue Ridge, running spring water, lights, swimming, dancing, etc. Fried chicken every day. Rates reasonable.

Mountain City Hotel
MOUNTAIN CITY, GA.
J. D. Frasier, Prop.

TARPON—

are striking at the "pass." Great news for sportsmen and sports women. Come this week and catch the amazing fish that never leave the water. Prizes for the largest catch during the season. Inquire.

The Chamber of Commerce
PANAMA CITY, FLORIDA

Carolina Mayor Leaves Thursday For Atlanta Pen

Charleston, S. C., June 21.—Mayor R. V. Bray, Jr., of Beaufort, S. C., convicted a year ago in federal court of striking Harold Smith, a federal revenue agent, following an altercation, and sentenced a year and a day in the Atlanta federal prison, and a fine of $1,000, surrendered to United States Marshal S. J. Leaphart and left this afternoon for Atlanta to begin serving his sentence.

Mayor Bray was accompanied by Charleston by a number of his friends. He was elected mayor of Beaufort this spring for a term of four years, and during his absence, a mayor pro-tem will take his place, which will be open to him on his return.

Mayor Bray declared today that he was going to prison with his head up and would come out the same way, that he had always been loyal to the United States and always would be.

Efforts to obtain a pardon for Mayor Bray, made just before President Harding left for his Alaskan trip, failed.

FOURTH DISTRICT ELECTION RETURNS BARR'D BY COURT

Secretary of State S. Guymon McLenon will not certify the election of any senator from the fourth district when he sends in the returns from the last election to the state senate on June 27, he said Thursday.

This action of Secretary McLenon follows the issuance of an order by Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton superior court, restraining him from certifying to the election of either of the two candidates, James P. Vocelle and Charles S. Arnow, following a contest which has arisen over the result.

"The fourth district will be left blank in my certified returns," said Mr. McLenon. "I shall certify to the election of senators from the other fifty-one districts, but will leave a blank space for the fourth. This is the only possible course open for me after the order of the court."

Mr. McLenon stated that he believed the proper course for the senate to pursue would be to organize with the fourth district seat vacant. When the members are ready to try the contest, he will furnish from his office the election returns, tally sheets and any other documents being on the case, but without any comment or expression of opinion.

As a cheap vacation, we suggest putting on a bathing suit and being photographed at home.—Reading Times.

CASH PAID FOR SCHOOL BOOKS GAVAN'S
71 Whitehall St.

Have You Ever Visited A Great Oil Refinery?

To the untrained eye, crude petroleum all look pretty much alike, but to the refinery expert their grades and qualities vary widely.

The process of converting this crude oil into various products is a most interesting one. Refining, distillation and filtration bring about the separation of various "fractions"—from gasoline to roofing and paving materials.

The production of a motor oil is one of the most important steps in this process; the effort being made to take out the impurities and at the same time leave in the "oiliness" or "viscosity."

Polarine MOTOR OIL

is made from the heart of choicest, selected "crudes", in one of the world's greatest refineries, and by painstaking care in every step of its manufacture, it comes to you as the perfect motor oil. Ask your dealer for a copy of the free booklet, "Making Motors Run Smoother"; it will interest you and save you money.

FIDDLERS READY FOR BITTER WAR

Continued From First Page.
be allowed as the final outcome of this contest. There must be a victor and a vanquished. In other words it is going to be a war to the bitter end.

North Carolina's Honor.
Its honor of North Carolina that is at stake. Mixed up in the fracas will be two or three other states and before the final victory is achieved probably the whole of the United States and Canada will be involved.

North Carolina is the challenger. She claims to have among her noble citizens one man who is the supreme Marathon long distance fiddler of the south. Georgia disputes the claim and Florida disputes the claim of Georgia. There you have the casus belli, to speak with the diplomats.

And the war that is looming in the sky is going to be fought out in Atlanta. There are not going to be any cannons in this war, nor airplanes or machine guns and caterpillar tanks, but the weapons of warfare are going to be fiddles and bows. Georgia laid claim to the possession of the champion fiddler. Proud and defiant she broadcasted the assertion throughout the south. First there was a silence, no one dared dispute her claim. But it was the silence that presages a storm. The storm has broken now. North Carolina has challenged and in turn North Carolina has been challenged by Florida.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

And so Georgia is between two fires. Georgia has been in dire straits before, but she always came out on top and so she will this time, it is confidently predicted in circles who are in the know.

When the dual challenge was hurled in the face of this state, there was not a moment's hesitation. What can man do better than face the fearful odds, for the ashes of his fathers and the temples of his gods. This is the sentiment that animates Georgia fiddlers. They are with their backs to the wall and this very fact opens ill for contestants with people of Anglo-Saxon blood in their veins.

July 10 to July 13 will be the probable dates of the contest. The finest fiddlers of five states will be drawn up in fighting phalanx on that date. Leading the men from Florida will be Ben Peoples, "the snake charming fiddler" from the Okefenokee swamp. Ben Singery, the laughing fiddler from Hall county, and old Bill Guddin, Joe Wages, from Clark county, "men who were never beat on fiddle or banjo," are going to be in the thick of it for Georgia.

One enthusiastic fan from Woodbury wired The Constitution Thursday that he is willing to put his prize yelling heifer against John Blount's prize bantam rooster from North Carolina.

"We, the old-time fiddlers from Woodbury, Ga., Blount's, and Mr. Carson, the Atlanta fiddler, to a contest. Little Sally Lou, of this town, who has just started to learn, will show these fellows how to handle a bow. We not only challenge Atlanta fiddlers but all fiddlers from Dan to Beresheba. All jazz fiddlers and soloists are barred, unless the final ultimatum shall start all the runners."

For long hauls, strong pulls, quick pick-up and general satisfaction in the operation of your automobile, truck, or tractor, you can depend on the never-varying quality of Crown Gasoline.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY INCORPORATED IN KENTUCKY

Whatever you want in the way of a Vacation

What do you seek in the way of a vacation? A rest and diversion? You'll find it at Hot Springs National Park. Recreation? There is ample sport and amusement here. Scenic Beauty? You'll find it, along with inspiration, in the beautiful Ozarks, our friendly mountains. Or is your health impaired or your tired body run down? Come, then, and regain your health, strength and vigor. The world-famous Hot Springs baths, mineral drinking waters and invigorating climate will put new life in you. Bathe away those ailments—and rest—

IN THE OZARK MOUNTAINS OF HOT SPRINGS NATIONAL PARK, ARKANSAS

OWNED AND CONTROLLED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT

This is a most popular summer and health resort; frequented by people of all classes from all over the world. There is golf, played on most fascinating 18 and 9-hole courses, among the best in the South; there's swimming, mountain climbing, horse-back riding, fishing, motoring on good mountain roads, tennis, dancing and that mingling with people. (Or there's privacy, if you prefer it.) You'll feel at home—every stranger is a guest.

Ample accommodations for mammoth metropolitan hotels and smaller ones; comfortable boarding houses, cottages and furnished apartments. Reduced rates on all railroads to Hot Springs National Park. Mail the coupon for illustrated booklet.

INSIST on all-year-round trip tourist ticket. If your ticket agent refuses, report it to us immediately.

BUSINESS MEN'S LEAGUE
HOT SPRINGS NATIONAL PARK, ARK.
MAIL US THIS NOW!

Business Men's League,
Hot Springs National Park, Ark.
Without cost, please send illustrated booklet "K."

NAME

ADDRESS

The Vanishing Men

BY RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD

Next Week, "Lou-Lou"
By H. Bedford-Jones.

Continued from yesterday.

"I see that some one who had a reason has put copy paper and candles under these pages and copied these handwriting entries by running a stylus over the original entries. Sometimes the carbon and paper went away, that's why you see these little blue marks. Did you think it extraordinary that I observed that?"

"Oh, no," said Peter. "Not at all. How could I? It was the first thing that made me wonder about the story these figures can tell. I may want you to go wherever the trail leads—Dallas, New Orleans."

When Peter reached his apartment, Smallwood was waiting for him. "Here I am," he said.

"You don't mean—?" exclaimed Peter.

"Yes, I did find one," said the bookman. "Not so far away either," and he placed on the table a third copy of Father Carlos' Explorations. Peter flipped over the pages. Thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-four, thirty-five, thirty-six, thirty-seven, thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two, forty-three, forty-four, forty-five, forty-six, forty-seven, forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty, fifty-one, fifty-two, fifty-three, fifty-four, fifty-five, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-eight, fifty-nine, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-two, sixty-three, sixty-four, sixty-five, sixty-six, sixty-seven, sixty-eight, sixty-nine, seventy, seventy-one, seventy-two, seventy-three, seventy-four, seventy-five, seventy-six, seventy-seven, seventy-eight, seventy-nine, eighty, eighty-one, eighty-two, eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six, eighty-seven, eighty-eight, eighty-nine, ninety, ninety-one, ninety-two, ninety-three, ninety-four, ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven, ninety-eight, ninety-nine, one hundred.

As he held it higher until it covered a cot on which a waking sleeper was pushing himself up on one arm and reaching under a pillow with the other hand.

"A lady," the Mexican said, setting down the lantern and departing. The man on the cot sprang up, raised the lantern, and gasped.

"Brena!" he exclaimed.

"Yes, Peter. Thank God, Peter, I came in time."

"Time—time for what? I'm all right, dear."

"You're tired out. You've had a message—a call. You are the third—I couldn't stand it. It was you—that's different."

"You're tired out."

"No, I'm not, Peter," she said. "I want you to be glad I came."

He dropped the lantern; it went out. He put his arms around her shoulder as he pulled her hair with the open palm of his hand.

"Glad? Me? Glad? Brena! I can't say it, dear. The cup runs over at the brain."

"I've been in mortal fear, Peter," she whispered and shivered in his arms. "I thought I had sent you away. I thought I had sent the thing that took the others."

"No," he said.

"Can you tell, Peter?"

"I guess I'm going to fix everything. If not, there's something too big—too ghastly—"

"If you never came back to me—if anything—"

"Why, Peter, I prayed for relief from the hideous idea that I had let you start."

"Look here," he said severely. "Did you send me that warning—to the steamer?"

"She was silent."

"Yes, I thought I must stop you, dear."

For a long time they sat on the edge of the cot without a word. At last, Peter said:

"I'm almost at the point where I score, Brena," said Peter after a time. "I've brought a high-powered car here. Two hundred-odd miles into this hell of a desert! And tomorrow, I go tomorrow."

He struck a match and relit the lantern.

"Tell me, Peter," she said, brushing the red-gold hair back from her forehead.

"I did tell you. I said I had a theory—a theory about where they went—Hennepin first—and Parmelee. If I can not right, heaven help us! I'm not afraid yet—not in my real self. If I'm right, I'll laugh at myself for totting a gun around. But if I'm wrong now, I'd be afraid I'm no coward, but I'd write with fear!"

Her eyes were full of a troubled expression.

"I can't."

"But you don't tell me, Peter."

"Why not?"

"Because if I was wrong it would always appear to you that I had been the inventor of injustice. Let me test your faith in me, Brena. Give me three days more."

"Yes, but when you ride off into the desert—to danger, maybe—I'm going, too."

"You can't."

"Yes, I am going with you, Peter!"

"It might be too hideous."

"I am going."

The strange authority with which she sometimes spoke was now in her voice and in her eyes; it was as if she were speaking not out of herself alone, but were one who voiced a decree of those who had willed an inexorable end.

"Let me show you then where we are going," he said. "Let me show you a map. Let me tell you how we shall have to steer our way over a trailless waste by compass as if we were at sea! It's a country of terrible distances and heat and thirst. If the car breaks down they'd never hear of us."

"We'd be out there for years," said Brena. "We'd have our hands—like this—"

"Together. But very bony, I suppose. I'd rather—do that, Peter—than to have—each other—"

He picked her up in his arms. He was the call to that region or was the call something that followed his search for this quaint old volume and its possession?

To Peter it appeared now that one more piece of material was needed to fill the pattern. He had been reluctant to seek this piece but now there was too much confirmation to allow any thing to stand in the way.

From a friend he had heard of the man he wanted for this next step, and to his house he went.

The man he had come to see met him in a typical doctor's office.

The physician, acting from habit put on his glasses, took out a card and said in a carefully nurtured tone of sympathy:

"What's the matter?"

"Nothing is the matter," replied DeWolfe. "I'm not ill. I came to consult you in your other capacity."

"Well," said the doctor, "hand-writing has been a hobby for nearly twenty years. It began curiously enough by a triviality—an attempt to read character through penmanship. It has ended in a scientific inquiry, the development of method, a system of rhythm, measurements. Scarcely a day goes by that I don't receive letters from the prosecuting authorities in many cities. I testified in London in the famous Speere murder case."

"Well," said the doctor.

From his memorandum book DeWolfe took out two pieces of paper. One of them was that with the scrawl of the feathered serpent and the two words "This Sign," which once had been in the possession of Jim Hennepin. The other was the check drawn by Compton Parmelee to the order of his wife, Brena Selous Parmelee, which she had endorsed. He placed this endorsement up and not down as he put the two pieces of paper side by side upon the table.

"That," said the doctor, putting a forefinger upon the words "The Sign," is an excellent example of an attempt to disguise penmanship."

At half-past four in the morning, when Peter was staring out at the first color in the eastern sky, filled with strange chills of sleepless night, his telephone rang at last.

He had his answer.

At half-past four in the afternoon a few days later, Brena Selous walked into the office of Colby Pennington, Peter DeWolfe's friend and lawyer. She had come directly from the pier on the North river. Her face was white.

"I am a friend of Mr. DeWolfe's," she said. "I have sent a wireless addressed to him here."

Pennington held up the undelivered envelope.

"Are you Miss Selous?" he asked. "Peter is out of town."

"Out of town?"

"Why, yes. He went off in a hurry—some hurry and flurry. I believe he had received some kind of message."

Pennington stopped.

"For God's sake what's the matter?"

Brena Selous, leaning forward in her chair, had thrown her arms upon his desk and in the curve of one elbow she had buried her face.

For a moment she stared at a crashless as if she had been struck a crushing blow upon the head.

From Colby Pennington she learned that Peter had gone to Texas, and that on the 24th of the month he expected to be in the town of Kremlin Wells. This was a small town in the desert, on the border between Texas and New Mexico.

Within an hour, Brena, without even hand baggage, was in the train heading her on the first stage of her journey to Kremlin Wells. She must be there by the 24th. She had a sense of racing with death.

And she won. At 3 o'clock in the morning of that day she alighted from the train in Kremlin Wells to peer into the face of a dark-eyed Mexican. She was frightened for a moment, but the mention of Peter's name the Mexican said: "Come," and led the way to a ramshackle hotel. Up the stairs she followed him and watched while he opened the door of a room.

His lantern's circle of light widened heard her whispering, "I'm not ill, Peter I am tired. And I don't have to pretend with you, do I?" He felt her warm breath.

THE GUMPS—BABE

He put her down at full length on the cot and, sitting beside her, moved his finger tips across her white forehead. Brena's limp hand, that still rested in sleep upon his bare neck, was warm with the promise of living expectancies.

They were driving through a country without mercy to living things. After miles of hard pulling through the bare loose-surfaced plain, they found that all vegetation—even the acacia—was scarce, and the emptiness was that of the frontier of death itself.

"What is that on the desert?" she asked. "Peter, look! There! To the left."

A little point of light shone on the sand, as if a diamond had caught the sunlight. Peter stopped the car again to pick it up, showed it to Brena: it was an empty vial of white glass.

Peter sprang out of the car, and, walking about in widening circles, searched the ground. He appeared excited.

Time and time again he looked at the little glass vial.

"Someone has been here," said Brena. "I'm just Irish enough to say that, Peter."

"Hush," he said. "I've seen more than you have seen. It means everything to us."

At 9 o'clock they came within sight of a great mound on the desert.

"There it is!" exclaimed DeWolfe. "Look, Brena. And there's the haze on the horizon—the haze that the Jesuit missionaries told about. It comes from the colder air of the Mesquero Ridge."

"And it means that we have found our way?"

"Yes, found our way! There's 90 miles more."

"Where are we going?"

"To the oldest city, Brena, in America. To a city at the base of a high cliff, built of clay which crumbled centuries ago into dust. The wall is left perhaps as it was two centuries ago. A dry well. A wind-lass place occupied only by horned lizards and perhaps one other misshapen thing."

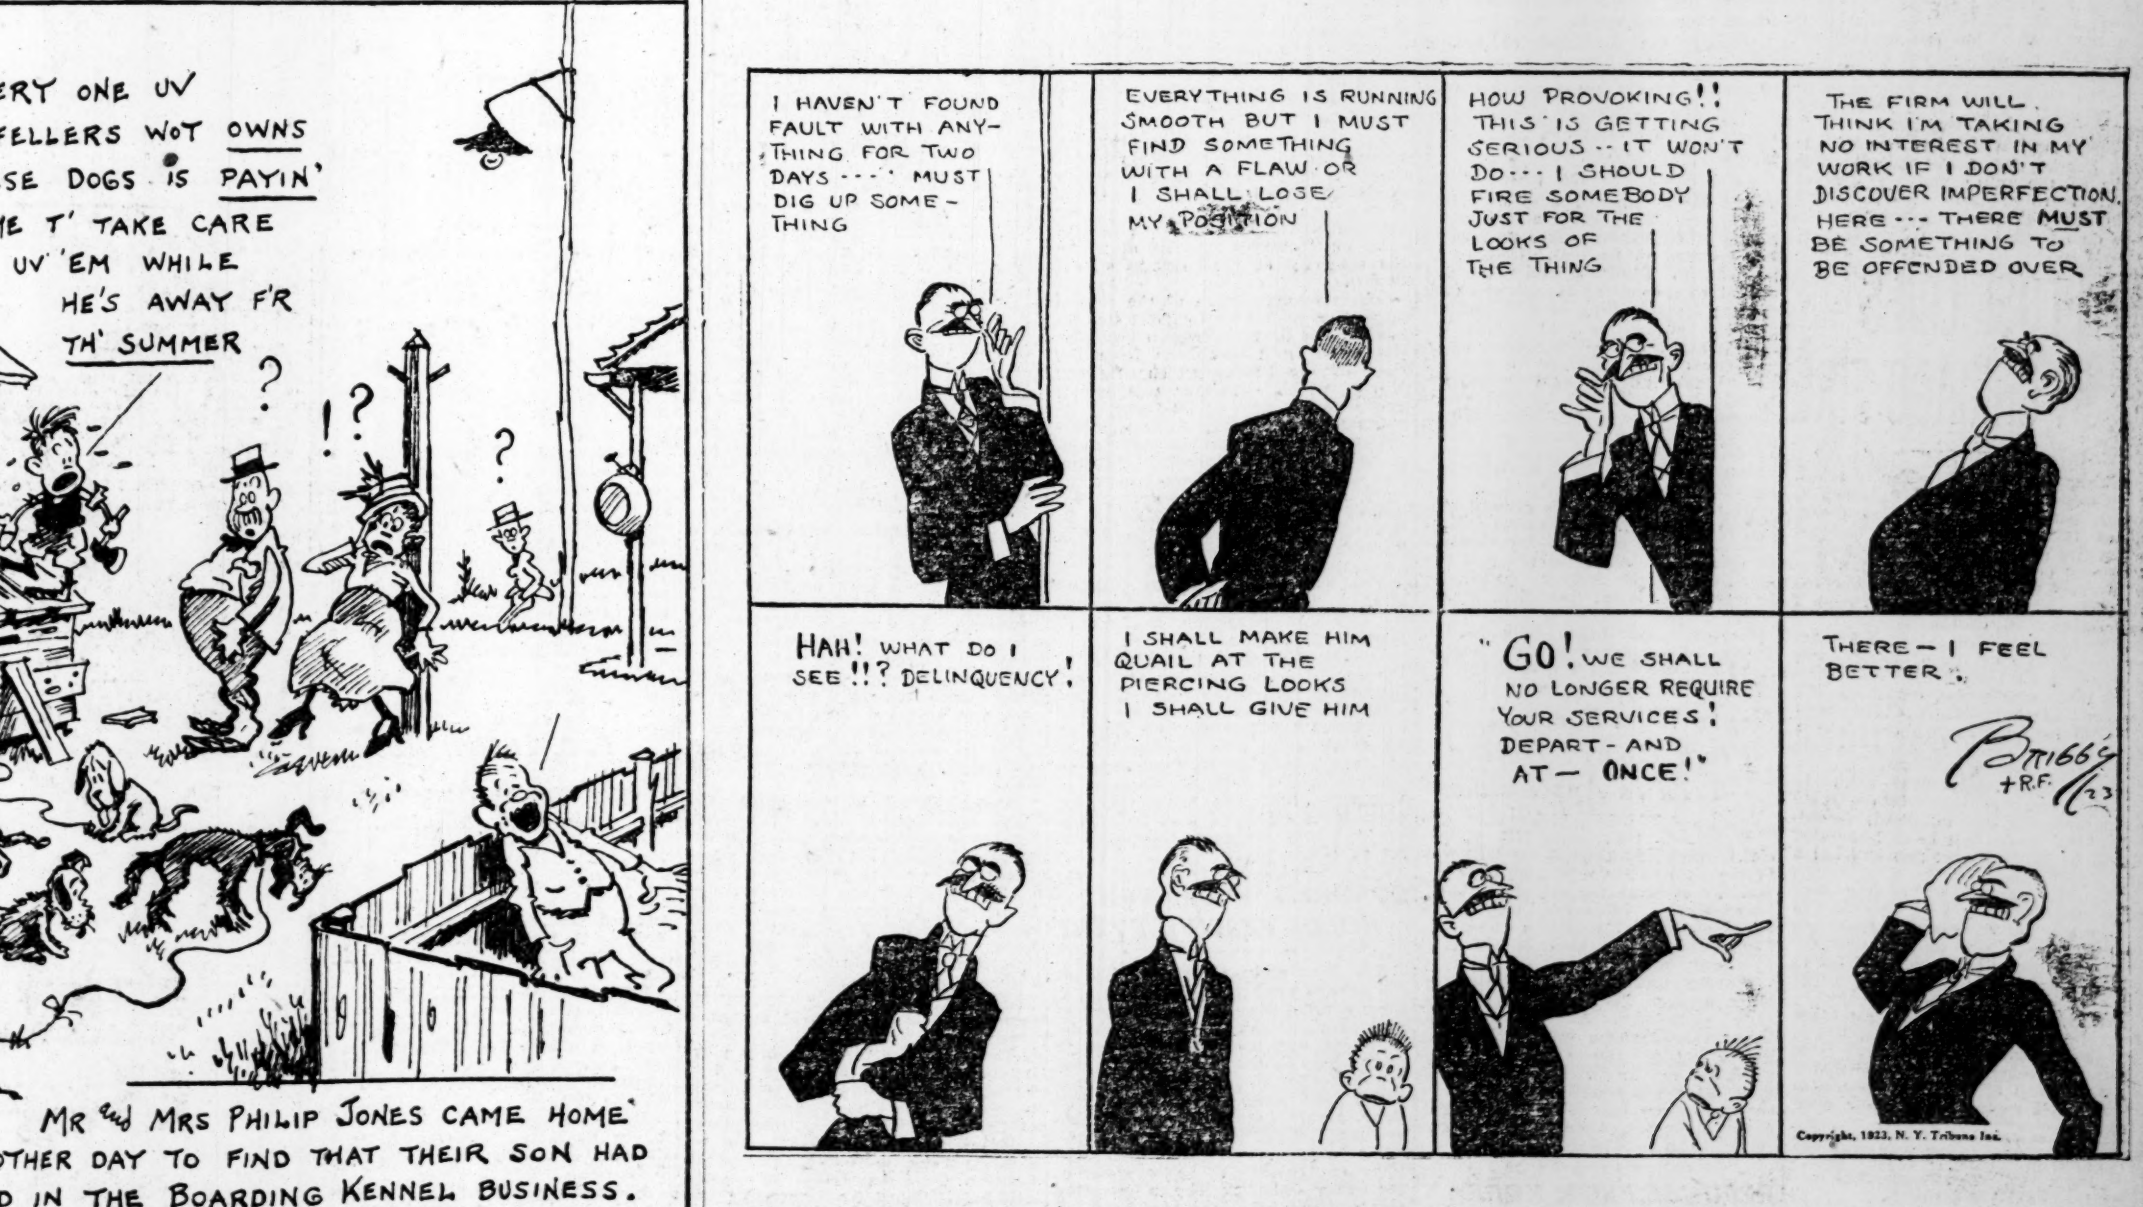

At 3 o'clock they came within sight of the tableland upon which moun-

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—A Chance for the Imagination

Neighborhood News

Wonder What the New Efficiency Expert Thinks About?

JUST NUTS

